

Chapter 138-2

After a long while, Sun Chengcheng left.

Xu Qingzhu opened the door on the passenger side. After getting in the car, she placed the book Sun Chengcheng had given her on her lap. She first rubbed her hands that had already turned red from the cold, then clasped them together and blew a breath into her palms.

Liang Shi handed her a small hot water bag. "Warm up a bit."

After taking the hot water bag, Xu Qingzhu also took the opportunity to place her icy hands on the back of Liang Shi's hand.

The cold made Liang Shi shiver.

"Why are they so cold?" Liang Shi's brows furrowed slightly. Although she was complaining, her hands had already grasped hers, using her body temperature to warm them.

"The wind outside is so strong." Liang Shi said: "Why did you chat with her for so long?"

When she had just returned, Xu Qingzhu had already told Liang Shi about Sun Chengcheng.

Although it was said in a not-so-proper setting.

At that time, Xu Qingzhu was still at the beginning of her heat period, right when she was most uncomfortable. Her voice was hoarse from crying, her hands gripping the bedsheets tightly, her back tense, even the tops of her feet stretched taut.

With a tearful voice, Xu Qingzhu had intermittently told Liang Shi: "Someone named Sun Chengcheng came to find me... wuwu... saying Liang He had something to tell me... ying..."

Later, when she got playful, she even leaned close to Liang Shi's ear and called out: "Liang He jiejie~"

The two of them hadn't said much more about the Sun Chengcheng matter after that.

Liang Shi also had no intention of revealing those past events again.

Xu Qingzhu also didn't tell her that she had seen the "clarification" that had been written on her phone for a long time.

Liang Shi only reminded her to stay away from Sun Chengcheng—that person was not good.

Although Sun Chengcheng's little tricks were nothing in the business world, being backstabbed or clung to by such a person was still quite disgusting.

In other words, she couldn't really do anything to you, but she could disgust you.

The grudge between Liang Shi and her was also mostly settled.

After returning, Liang Shi had retaliated against Sun Chengcheng in the same manner, ruining her reputation.

And Sun Chengcheng had paid the price for what she did.

The System had said before that Sun Chengcheng was able to come here because of the butterfly effect she had triggered.

This was also an unknown time bomb.

Who knew what consequences it would lead to.

This was also why Liang Shi didn't want Xu Qingzhu to have too much contact with Sun Chengcheng.

Xu Qingzhu slightly raised her chin toward her knees. "Here, she found a book for me."

"What book?" Liang Shi asked.

"A rare edition I casually mentioned before." Xu Qingzhu said: "I don't know how she got her hands on it."

Liang Shi: "....."

Liang Shi's face darkened, and she didn't speak.

Xu Qingzhu's hands were almost warm now. She withdrew her hand from Liang Shi's grasp and casually flipped through the book, remarking: "The paper quality is quite good."

Liang Shi: "....."

"You two have been in contact this whole time?" Liang Shi couldn't help but ask.

Xu Qingzhu nodded: "More or less."

Liang Shi frowned, wanting to speak but stopping herself.

The atmosphere in the car suddenly turned cold.

Xu Qingzhu showed no reaction either, completely different from the past few days. She wasn't in a hurry to urge Liang Shi to drive.

It was obvious that Liang Shi was somewhat unhappy, yet she didn't lean over to call her "jiejie," didn't play with her hair, didn't hug her or kiss her. Everything seemed cold and distant.

She even leisurely opened the book and started reading.

It was Liang Shi who couldn't hold back. "Why are you in contact with her?"

Xu Qingzhu closed the book, rested her hand on her leg, and slowly turned her face to meet her gaze. "Why can't I be in contact with her?"

"I told you to stay away from her, right?" Liang Shi said: "She's not a good person."

"I did stay away. She's the one who keeps coming closer." Xu Qingzhu said: "There's nothing I can do about that."

Xu Qingzhu's voice was cool and detached. The hoarseness from crying too hard the past few days wasn't very noticeable anymore.

Omegas recovered quite quickly in some respects.

When her voice was cool, her speech seemed very cold.

Originally, Xu Qingzhu had always spoken this way; it wasn't any different.

But after these past few days, Liang Shi found it somewhat hard to get used to.

She had gone to see Chen Liuying today and heard so much from the System that her mood was already somewhat depressed.

There was a feeling of helplessness.

Coming to see Xu Qingzhu was also a deliberate attempt to suppress that helplessness.

She still had to try.

Even if changing the original world line and triggering a huge butterfly effect meant she would have to pay a huge price for it.

She would accept it all.

But the only thing she didn't want was for Xu Qingzhu to also have to pay a price because of the butterfly effect she triggered.

Whether it was worrying unnecessarily or taking precautions before it was too late.

She had to consider this aspect regardless.

Hadn't the Chen Liuying incident already implicated Xu Qingzhu?

From having her glands gouged out by the original owner to being kidnapped by Chen Liuying.

Everything was interconnected.

No one ever existed separately from their environment.

Especially now that Sun Chengcheng had come because of her, and after arriving, she had deliberately gotten close to Xu Qingzhu.

She could even cater to Xu Qingzhu's preferences to curry favor with her. If there was nothing behind it, Liang Shi didn't believe it.

If she had a System, could Sun Chengcheng also have a System?

The System wasn't something that served her alone.

Liang Shi didn't have the notion that the System belonged to her.

To her, the System was just an existence that gave her orders; she only needed to do as the System said.

To summarize at a high level, the System was a product that drifted through all dimensional worlds, responsible for maintaining order.

And according to their balance rules, if she was given privileges, corresponding privileges would also be given to her enemies.

For example, those twenty favorability points for Lu Jiayi.

Liang Shi's mind was running wild with thoughts, becoming increasingly agitated. She slapped the steering wheel hard.

Her palm immediately turned red.

This sound broke the silence in the car.
