

Chapter 139-1

Her emotions were quite complex, come to think of it.

Before she could even calm down her anxiety and unease, she was subjected to Xu Qingzhu's differential treatment.

Liang Shi even briefly had the thought that it would have been better not to come back.

But it was only for an instant.

And she vented all her anxiety and unease in bed.

Xu Qingzhu still couldn't escape crying.

The soft, broken whimpers sounded like a cat whose tail had been stepped on. The hotel bed sheets had a very light lavender scent, and the room was mixed with too many smells.

The sun quickly set, disappearing behind the mountains. The lights of this city lit up in an instant.

Because they were on a high floor, they could even see the lights on the tallest building in this city—they were orange.

Xu Qingzhu's back pressed against the remote control, and the TV actually turned on.

However, the TV's homepage was playing an advertisement.

As luck would have it, it was an advertisement for Minghui Jewelry's winter new products endorsed by Yang Shuyan, being broadcast on TV.

Liang Shi and Xu Qingzhu were both stunned at the same time.

Xu Qingzhu came back to her senses even slower than Liang Shi. After a moment, Liang Shi pinched Xu Qingzhu's waist and blew into her ear: "Am I better looking or is she?"

Xu Qingzhu's response was half a beat slow.

Liang Shi didn't let her off.

Xu Qingzhu was in completely different states during her heat period versus normal times.

During her heat period, she was extremely clingy.

But once her heat period passed, she acted as if she wanted to cut off all ties with you—no one could stand it.

Clearly, when she left in the morning, she had pulled Liang Shi by the collar to ask for a kiss. Even when she was about to be late for an important meeting, she could still steal a moment to give her a kiss.

But by evening, she would ask "what's wrong with you?" in that extremely cold tone.

And it was repeated over and over.

Seeing that Liang Shi was unhappy, she didn't try to coax her either. The difference in treatment from those few days was too obvious.

Liang Shi felt like she was just a tool for Xu Qingzhu to get through her heat period.

It might not even be an illusion.

So she poured all these feelings of unease and grievance into a grand intimate affair.

After Xu Qingzhu's heat period, she became even more unrestrained.

After all, outside of an Omega's heat period, the probability of pregnancy was less than 1%.

From when the sun set in the west to when the moon hung high in the sky, the two finally took a quick shower and lay on the bed.

Xu Qingzhu lay at the edge, eyes closed pretending to sleep, looking as if she didn't want to pay any attention to Liang Shi.

After venting her emotions, Liang Shi knew she was in the wrong. While showering, she had also seen the bruises on Xu Qingzhu's body and felt remorseful and self-reproachful.

Although Xu Qingzhu was the type whose skin marked easily at the slightest touch, fundamentally speaking, she had still gone too far.

She also hadn't been as gentle as usual.

However, Xu Qingzhu outside of her heat period gave people a different kind of wicked pleasure.

There was a huge contrast between her during heat and normally. During heat, she cried when feeling good, and cried when it hurt.

But when not in heat and not affected by an Alpha, her expression was cool and detached. Even when her desire was aroused, at most the corners of her eyes would be slightly red.

Cool and abstinent.

As if she didn't care about such matters at all.

It made it seem like Liang Shi was being one-sided, forcing herself on her.

But when Liang Shi was about to give up, she would grab Liang Shi's arm and say with a hooked smile: "Chickening out?"

If it were during heat, she would definitely cling tightly, snuggling and nuzzling in her arms, crying pitifully: "Jiejie."

Or saying aggrievedly: "Jiejie~ Help me."

So delicate and soft.

But right now, she just instinctively aroused one's desire to conquer.

Those two words coming from her mouth didn't count as provocation—it was as if she were stating a fact in an offhand manner.

Even though it was a question.

Liang Shi's competitive spirit, which had faded to almost nothing, was stirred up. She went back at it, saying through gritted teeth: "Don't you dare cry."

Xu Qingzhu laughed: "Not necessarily."

Even in this kind of matter, she appeared composed and at ease.

Facing such a person, Liang Shi naturally forgot to show mercy.

Before, she had treated Xu Qingzhu like a porcelain doll, afraid of bumping or dropping her.

But today her defenses had been broken down, retreating step by step.

Only after it ended did she realize she had completely followed Xu Qingzhu's rhythm.

Xu Qingzhu had made Liang Shi lose her head with just a few words.

One could only say it was quite crazy.

But after the craziness, one always had to clean up one's own mess. There was no smile on Xu Qingzhu's cool face.