

Chapter 167-2

//

Chen Mian was a very stubborn person.

After getting back, Liang Shi had a phone call with Chen Mian.

Liang Shi asked Chen Mian why she was so certain it was Qi Jiao who said it. Chen Mian said she had a dream.

In the dream, someone was running a shop. Flowers bloomed at the entrance, and there was a blue sign. Qi Jiao was standing at the door.

Qi Jiao was smiling gently, and the person standing across from her was Liang Shi.

Chen Mian was the first person who dared to come questioning Liang Shi based solely on a dream.

But Liang Shi couldn't bring herself to fabricate lies to deceive her.

Because the dream was real.

The sign for "Deep Sea Sleepless" was indeed blue. Qi Jiao had indeed opened a flower shop. And Liang Shi had indeed met her.

After thinking for a long time, Liang Shi finally answered, "Qi Jiao went to another world."

Chen Mian then asked, "How can I get to that world?"

Liang Shi paused, then said helplessly, "You can't anymore."

The system had said that repairs to the plane world were underway, and the space-time gate had been closed.

And she would no longer be traveling between the two plane worlds.

Chen Mian was silent for a long time on her end before asking, "Is she doing well?"

"Very well," Liang Shi answered.

That was the only thing Chen Mian asked about. She didn't ask why Liang Shi could go to that world, nor did she ask why Liang Shi knew these things. The only thing she was interested in was Qi Jiao.

After hanging up, Liang Shi still felt somewhat melancholic.

Xu Qingzhu asked her what was wrong. She shook her head and smiled. "Sometimes I feel like fate is too cruel."

Lovers destined never to be together.

Xu Qingzhu teased her for being so sentimental. Liang Shi didn't say anything.

As for Liang Wanwan, she woke up the next day, left a note apologizing and thanking them, and then departed.

However, Liang Wanwan had written in the note that Guo Xinran was entering the entertainment industry, warning Liang Shi to be careful and not run into her.

Liang Shi later messaged Liang Wanwan, asking if something had happened at school.

Liang Wanwan replied: 【There was something, but it wasn't serious. It's already over now.】

Liang Shi: 【That's good then.】

Meanwhile, at that moment, Liang Wanwan was standing on the school's sports field. She suddenly crouched down, buried her head in her knees, and burst into tears.

Her secret love had ended in this bleak winter.

The moment a secret love is spoken aloud, it's destined to perish.

Because of this, Chen Mian had blocked her on WeChat, added her phone number to her blacklist, and even withdrew from the project she had been collaborating on with Liang Wanwan's advisor. A clean break, leaving no room for anything.

Chen Mian's words kept echoing in Liang Wanwan's mind: "I have someone I like."

"I know." Liang Wanwan had said. "It's Qi Jiao, right? I don't mind."

The drunk Liang Wanwan had boldly poured out her heart. "I can wait for you to forget her and move on."

"I won't forget," Chen Mian said.

Liang Wanwan tugged at the hem of her clothes. "Then... can you pretend I'm her?"

Chen Mian's gaze was fixed directly on her, cold without a trace of warmth.

"You don't need to settle for less." Chen Mian said, "We're not compatible."

Chen Mian pulled her hand away.

After that, Liang Wanwan couldn't remember how much she had drunk—only that it was after Chen Mian left.

Cup after cup, until she passed out there.

She didn't know how she ended up at Liang Shi's place, but when she woke up, she discovered Chen Mian had already blocked her.

So decisively done.

It extinguished all of Liang Wanwan's flames of love and snuffed out all her hopes.
