

Chapter 170-5

Sally and Lin Luoxi had finished their honeymoon, so naturally they were very busy after returning to the company.

That meant they could help share a lot of Xu Qingzhu's workload.

Because they had mutual friends, the conversation went quite well.

Bai Yu wasn't as bad-tempered as the rumors suggested—he was just a bit childish. At only twenty-one years old, he really was quite young.

Later, Liang Shi heard from Yang Shuyan that Bai Yu was the child of Lin Luoxi's parents' friends. He had lived at Lin Luoxi's house for a while when he was young. Back when they used to play together, he was just a little tagalong.

Because there were people she knew, Liang Shi wasn't so reserved.

The most critical person was Liang Xinran.

She had heard Liang Wanwan mention her before, but she hadn't expected to encounter her on a variety show. Liang Xinran certainly knew where her strengths lay—her acting wasn't good, so she came directly to variety shows to build goodwill with the general public.

As it turned out, her skill at socializing worked even better in variety shows. Everyone quite liked her. Even when the staff chatted about her, they all said this young miss had no airs at all.

The biggest sponsor was a famous brand under Dongheng, so most of the advertisement placements featured Liang Xinran.

During dinner, Qiqi even brought it up: "Liang Shi, Liang Xinran—you two share the same surname."

Liang Xinran smiled gracefully. "Yes, it's quite a coincidence."

Liang Shi felt uncomfortable inside but just responded with a faint smile.

When rooms were assigned that night, Liang Shi was in the same room as Yang Shuyan.

There were cameras in the room too. Yang Shuyan and Liang Shi chatted officially for a bit—enough footage to edit—then covered up the cameras, and only then did it become their private space.

Yang Shuyan got straight to the point and asked, "Do you have a grudge with Liang Xinran?"

"It's not even a grudge," Liang Shi said. "It's probably more like... enmity."

Yang Shuyan: "?"

"It's quite a complicated matter." Liang Shi asked, "What's wrong?"

Yang Shuyan paused for a moment. "It's best not to show it on the program. Also, try to avoid her."

Liang Shi asked back, "Is it because she brought investment into the show?"

"Mm." Yang Shuyan said, "Dongheng is behind her, and the current person at Dongheng has pretty ruthless methods. Although you have Xu Qingzhu, it's still best not to make a scene in public. It wouldn't be good for either you or Xu Qingzhu."

Liang Shi: "....."

After hearing these words, her heart was suddenly filled with mixed emotions.

However, Liang Shi knew Yang Shuyan was looking out for her, so she thanked her and then asked, "Did Sister Ying ask you to look after me?"

She didn't quite believe Yang Shuyan would be so kind-hearted on her own.

Yang Shuyan had already changed into her pajamas and casually lay down on the bed. "Mm, she quite likes you."

Liang Shi teased, "She seems to like you more though?"

Hearing this, Yang Shuyan turned her head to look at her. After a long while, she finally curved her lips into a light smile. "What does she like about me?"

Liang Shi shrugged. "How would I know? You'd have to ask Sister Ying."

After saying this, Liang Shi sent a message to Xu Qingzhu: [Are you asleep?]

Xu Qingzhu: [Waiting for you.]

Liang Shi: [What time did you get home today?]

Xu Qingzhu: [Eight o'clock.]

Liang Shi: [What did you eat?]

Xu Qingzhu: [Roast duck.]

Liang Shi instinctively typed two characters first, wanting to praise her with "great job," but before sending it, she suddenly had doubts. She deleted everything and edited: [With who?]

Xu Qingzhu: [Lu Jiayi, and... her fiancée.]

Liang Shi: [They're really engaged?]

Xu Qingzhu nodded: [Yes.]

Liang Shi video-called her, but Xu Qingzhu's line was busy.

She waited two seconds and was about to call again when Xu Qingzhu had already called her back.

In the video, Xu Qingzhu was leaning against the headboard, wearing a pink pajama set—the one they bought when they went shopping together and "mutually wounded"¹ each other last time.

Because Liang Shi had said Xu Qingzhu didn't have many pink clothes, Xu Qingzhu shot back that she didn't have any either.

So the two of them bought two sets together—matching couple outfits.

Footnotes:

¹ "Mutually wounded" (互相傷害): A playful internet slang expression meaning to tease or poke fun at each other, or in shopping contexts, to encourage each other to spend money on things they might not normally buy. Here it refers to them playfully challenging each other to buy pink clothes.
