

Chapter 48-2

Xu Qingzhu was handling documents, occasionally glancing at the screen.

After a while, Liang Shi asked, "How did you know I got injured?"

"The whole nation knows." Xu Qingzhu said, "You were trending on social media for half the day today. Are you happy?"

Liang Shi: "..."

What was there to be happy about!

She would rather not have this kind of trending topic.

She switched to the background to check Weibo, and sure enough, there was a trending topic #Dongheng Group Violent Elements#. Clicking on it showed a video of Liang Shi fiercely beating up that man.

Because there was strict control over sharp weapons now, the person who posted the video had censored the knife.

"..."

The video caption read: [Video sent by a friend. Have to say, this sister is very suitable for filming martial arts and crime dramas.]

She opened the comment section and found it was full of agreement.

[Too cool, sister, I'm available!]

[Are you sure this isn't filming? It looks better than current crime dramas. @Action film directors come and learn.]

[Does this sister have a boyfriend? If not, does she have Weibo?]

[Saved the CEO, now she can directly get promoted and reach the peak of life, right.]

[...]

The video only captured her profile, and because the action happened in a split second, it was impossible to capture her face clearly.

Everyone was frantically taking screenshots, but could only see her handsome silhouette.

"I've finished watching." Liang Shi felt mixed emotions and asked Xu Qingzhu, "Do you think this is a good thing?"

Xu Qingzhu's voice was very flat, "They didn't name names either. Your brother is already handling it, and the trending topic will be taken down soon."

Liang Shi had never worked at a big corporation before. Based on her past experience, it was usually easy for netizens to dig up information about someone they wanted to investigate.

Maybe it was because the circles she had been in had no secrets.

"The group has already sent internal emails to thoroughly investigate the source of the video." Xu Qingzhu said, "Don't worry, your brother won't push you out there. The trending topic was explosive this morning, but now the heat is rapidly declining."

Only then did Liang Shi feel somewhat relieved.

She didn't want to be known to netizens as the third young lady of the Liang family, otherwise when she debuted, her label would definitely be #Liang Family Fake Heiress#.

She wanted to enter the entertainment industry with a clean slate.

Then become a movie queen.

Her life goals were nothing more than this.

As for the mess of the Liang family, she would manage it if she could.

If Qiu Zimin decided to cut ties with her tomorrow, she would immediately drop everything and stop caring.

Whoever wanted to investigate could investigate.

Any more investigating on her part would just prove her stupidity.

Xu Qingzhu had a meeting at 1:30 PM and needed to prepare meeting materials, so after chatting with her for a few sentences, she hung up the video call.

Liang Shi looked and realized they had been on video for forty-eight minutes.

This was the first time this had happened to her.

In the past, when she was working, there might be group video conferences.

Or when a drama was about to air, she would do joint promotional work with others. Even when chatting, there would be a host to control the scene.

She was never the active one; all she could do was answer when asked.

But those were all facing many people. This kind of pure video chatting, or watching the other person eat and work, no matter how she thought about it, seemed to have some indescribable meaning.

It was too intimate.

But she liked this feeling in her heart.

And her mission also required this.

For her, it was a novel experience she had never had before.

Especially, Xu Qingzhu working seriously was very charming.

Lowered eyelids, serious expression, slender fingers gently brushing over papers—even though it was just a simple video call, it gave Liang Shi the comfortable feeling of watching a slow-paced movie.

It was the level of having her own built-in filter without any soft lighting.
