

Chapter 101-1 Extra

Extra: If Line, Ji Jingrong (Don't buy if you don't like it)

When Yin Lingzhu first arrived in this world, she immediately felt a sharp pain in the back of her neck, so she immediately rushed to the hospital.

But when the driver asked her which hospital to go to, she hesitated.

In her memory, there were two hospitals: First Hospital and Second Hospital.

If it were any other time, she would have chosen First Hospital, but today, for some unknown reason—

"Go to Second Hospital."

Yin Lingzhu covered the back of her neck and said to the driver.

After having her glands examined at the hospital, she was told she had undergone secondary differentiation¹.

But having just arrived in this world, she didn't truly understand this level yet.

She just looked at the male doctor in front of her, whose expression was excited, and felt somewhat uncomfortable.

She turned her face slightly, avoiding his gaze.

"If there's nothing else, I'll go back first."

Yin Lingzhu glanced at him and stood up from the chair.

Though the doctor was extremely reluctant to see her leave, he couldn't say anything at this moment.

"Remember to come for regular check-ups."

The doctor looked at Yin Lingzhu, who was about to leave, his eyes full of reluctance, but his professional ethics as a doctor remained.

He could only say this to Yin Lingzhu before she left.

Yin Lingzhu nodded. "Okay."

As she was leaving, she saw someone walking toward her with hurried steps and a fast pace.

Yin Lingzhu stood in place, looking at the person in front of her wearing a lawyer's suit, hair flowing behind her, with efficient movements.

That person also noticed Yin Lingzhu's gaze, looked up, and glanced at her.

The two pairs of eyes briefly met, but then quickly looked away at the same time.

When leaving the hospital, Yin Lingzhu was still immersed in that person's gaze from just now.

Those eyes reminded Yin Lingzhu of pine and cypress trees—seemingly never yielding.

This incident didn't leave much of an impression in Yin Lingzhu's heart. To her, this person was just a passerby.

But she didn't expect that their next meeting would come so soon.

On the other side, Ji Jingrong entered the examination room, frowning, her hand clenched into a fist pressed against the table.

Due to the pain, her head was slightly lowered, her hair covering most of her face.

Seeing her condition was so severe this time, the doctor immediately took out suppressants² from the drawer and had Ji Jingrong drink them.

"Who was the person who just left?"

After her body felt slightly better, she asked while panting heavily.

The doctor almost immediately wanted to tell her that he had just seen an S-level Alpha.

But this matter was absolutely confidential.

He couldn't say, so he could only change the subject.

"A patient. What's wrong?"

In his memory, Ji Jingrong was only interested in making money and had no interest in anything else.

Ji Jingrong could tell from the doctor's expression that he didn't want to talk about it, so she didn't press him.

"Nothing, just thought she looked quite good."

Ji Jingrong went along with his meaning, laughed it off, and moved past the topic.

She stared deeply at the suppressants in her hand.

The doctor sighed. "Continuously disguising yourself as an Alpha like this isn't good for your body."

Ji Jingrong said nothing about this.

This was her obsession.

After learning that she owed thirty million in breach of contract fees, Yin Lingzhu obediently went to work on time and left work on time every day.

But the company's closing time was very late, almost ten o'clock at night when it was completely dark.

When Yin Lingzhu left work and walked on the road, she carefully observed her surroundings.

She thought tonight would be like any other night, but unexpectedly, when Yin Lingzhu casually glanced toward a small alley, she discovered two suspicious-looking people.

Yin Lingzhu frowned and quickly walked over.

That alley only had one light at the entrance, but it couldn't illuminate the inside.

When Yin Lingzhu approached the alley entrance, she turned on her flashlight.

This light startled all three people in the alley.

Two thuggish-looking people saw Yin Lingzhu suddenly appear and immediately cursed angrily.

"Damn it, get lost if you have nothing to do. Don't meddle in other people's business."

After hearing this, Yin Lingzhu raised her flashlight to see more clearly inside.

When she saw clearly who was cornered at the very back, Yin Lingzhu was stunned.

This was the person she had encountered at the hospital that day.

This thought flashed through Yin Lingzhu's mind.

Ji Jingrong was also shocked to discover that this person was Yin Lingzhu.

Meeting Yin Lingzhu again would be in such a scenario.

The two thugs, seeing this scene, exchanged glances with each other.

They were hired by someone, and the pay wasn't much either.

They had already smelled the pheromone level on Yin Lingzhu—there was no need to invite trouble.

Seeing them leave, Yin Lingzhu walked to Ji Jingrong's side.

"Are you okay?"

Yin Lingzhu asked with some concern.

She looked at the abnormal flush on Ji Jingrong's cheeks and frowned.

Yin Lingzhu, through a layer of clothing fabric, gently supported Ji Jingrong's body.

Even so, she could feel the temperature from Ji Jingrong's body.

Clearly abnormally hot.

One could imagine how feverish Ji Jingrong's body had become.

At this moment, Ji Jingrong couldn't even see Yin Lingzhu's face clearly. She felt like she was burning up, her brain feeling like mush.

She reached out and wrapped her arms around Yin Lingzhu's neck.

"My room is in the downtown apartment, room number ****"

After saying this last sentence, Ji Jingrong lost consciousness.

Yin Lingzhu quickly supported her, letting her fall against her.

Looking at the person in her arms, the temperature of Yin Lingzhu's face also rose.

In her previous world, she had never been this close to a girl.

Without looking, Yin Lingzhu knew how flushed her face had become.

She exhaled, trying to calm her overly excited emotions.

Yin Lingzhu supported Ji Jingrong's waist with one hand and hailed a taxi with the other.

When she finally reached Ji Jingrong's apartment building and found Ji Jingrong's room, the previously quiet Ji Jingrong suddenly started causing trouble.

"I feel terrible."

Ji Jingrong began moving restlessly, without holding back her strength at all.

Yin Lingzhu, holding her with one arm, almost let her break free.

Seeing Ji Jingrong's dissatisfied expression, Yin Lingzhu immediately pressed Ji Jingrong's head into her embrace.

"Be good, don't move."

Yin Lingzhu coaxed her, and in the instant Ji Jingrong became obedient, she immediately got the keys from Ji Jingrong's pocket.

By the time Yin Lingzhu brought Ji Jingrong into the room, she was already sweating profusely from exhaustion.

She hadn't expected that Ji Jingrong, who looked so small, would have such great strength.

Yin Lingzhu sat by the bed, looking at the person who had regained calm, and a smile curved at the corner of her mouth.

The awake Ji Jingrong looked like a leopard ready to strike at any moment, with alertness always shooting from her eyes.

But now she looked like a sleeping kitten, exposing her belly to her owner.

Yin Lingzhu laughed at her own thoughts.

She glanced at the time and realized it was almost twelve o'clock.

Just as Yin Lingzhu was about to get up, her wrist was grabbed.

When Yin Lingzhu turned her head, she suddenly felt the world spinning. When she felt the surroundings had calmed down, she discovered Ji Jingrong was on top of her.

Ji Jingrong's eyes showed no clarity at all, completely controlled by desire.

Yin Lingzhu wanted to speak to remind her, but suddenly an extremely strong pear fragrance filled the air, causing Yin Lingzhu to instantly lose consciousness.

Footnotes:

² Suppressants: Medications used in ABO universe to suppress pheromones and heat/rut cycles.
