

Chapter 24-3

At the hospital, Yan Si found You Xiaoxiao¹.

"How can she and I have a child?"

You Xiaoxiao was stunned by the sheer amount of information in that sentence, taking a long time to react.

"You're not joking, are you?"

"Do you know what you're saying?" You Xiaoxiao looked at her in shock.

"You've also done in-depth research on glands—you understand your own gland clearly." You Xiaoxiao said with a grave expression.

Yan Si's gland had been injured when she was young, so her absorption of pheromones was already limited. Moreover, with Yin Lingzhu's gland now damaged, if she wanted to get pregnant, it would be extremely difficult.

"Your body is also not suitable for pregnancy. If you force it, it will definitely cause serious harm to your body." You Xiaoxiao frowned as she explained.

In her eyes, Yan Si must be crazy now, or else how could she have such thoughts.

Yan Si's eyes lowered, her long eyelashes covering her expression.

"I know. It's because I'm desperate to keep her." Yan Si stared at the floor, her eyes vacant.

"This is the best way."

You Xiaoxiao was stunned. "If you want to keep her, there are many ways. You don't need to choose this one."

"With your abilities, even if you imprisoned her, no one would know." You Xiaoxiao said casually.

In her view, this would be the most convenient approach.

The previous Yan Si would have agreed with this idea.

"I've already hurt her once. I don't want to hurt her again." Yan Si looked at her, her eyes full of sincerity.

You Xiaoxiao looked at this person who was now pale and not as healthy as before, not knowing what to say.

"I'll contact some of my former classmates to see if there's any way to reduce the pain in your situation." You Xiaoxiao said as she left.

Yan Si took out her phone, still browsing how to avoid divorce.

She would rather die than let Yin Lingzhu forget her. Even if she really died on the operating table, at least Yin Lingzhu would remember her for the rest of her life.

Yan Si's eyes revealed madness.

Before long, You Xiaoxiao came back, holding a report in her hand.

"Here, this is your report. If you insist on going through with this, even if you successfully conceive, the mortality rate during childbirth is as high as 79%."

Yan Si didn't take the report. "I won't give up. If dying can make her love me again, I'm willing to die."

The room fell silent as You Xiaoxiao and Yan Si remained in a standoff.

"Fine, do whatever you want." You Xiaoxiao stopped trying to persuade her. "As long as you're certain."

"You know what needs to be done. I don't need to say more."

Hearing You Xiaoxiao's words, Yan Si nodded. "I'll find a way."

After Yan Si left, You Xiaoxiao sat in her chair, sighing at Yan Si's transformation.

Yin Lingzhu returned to her dormitory to find Wan Miayin² in the room. She forced a smile and greeted her.

"What's wrong? You look terrible." Though Wan Miayin asked with curiosity, she roughly knew who was the cause.

"You and Yan Si, you two..." Wan Miayin couldn't finish her sentence. She felt something was wrong between the two, but couldn't pinpoint what exactly.

Yin Lingzhu shook her head. "Nothing. She and I have no relationship."

But Wan Miayin said, "She came to the dormitory looking for you today."

"I have no relationship with her."

Wan Miayin stared at her. "She specifically came to find you today."

Yin Lingzhu was getting annoyed by her questioning. "I told you, I have no relationship with her!"

Seeing Wan Miayin about to open her mouth again, looking like she wanted to ask more.

Yin Lingzhu got a bit angry, her tone sharp: "If you think I have a relationship with her, go ask her yourself!"

Noticing Wan Miayin staring at her in surprise, she realized her emotions were wrong just now.

"Sorry, I got a bit excited just now."

Wan Miayin smiled bitterly. "It's my fault. You don't need to apologize."

"You've changed quite a bit this year." Wan Miayin looked at the current Yin Lingzhu with an ambiguous expression.

Just as Yin Lingzhu was about to ask where she was different, Wan Miayin seemed to know her question and said, "You never used to apologize before. You were stubborn as a mule."

"People change." Yin Lingzhu smiled as she said this.

No one spoke, and the room became frighteningly quiet for a moment.

"It's getting late. Rest early—we have a performance tomorrow." Yin Lingzhu actively broke the silence.

The two tacitly didn't mention that tomorrow's performance wasn't theirs.

Yin Lingzhu lay on the bed, took out her phone, but didn't know what to do with it.

Suddenly a message popped up from Ji Jingrong³.

【It's been so long since I've seen you.】

Yin Lingzhu felt a bit guilty thinking that it really had been a long time since she'd met with Ji Jingrong.

【I'm free tomorrow. We can meet.】

Yin Lingzhu sent over a time, agreeing to hang out at noon tomorrow.

Ji Jingrong agreed as well.

The two chatted for a while before ending their conversation.

The content was mainly Yin Lingzhu venting to Ji Jingrong, constantly talking about things like dance practice and vocal training after the concert.

Ji Jingrong went along with what she said.

As they chatted, Yin Lingzhu gradually fell asleep.

Her phone screen gradually dimmed and went dark without her noticing.

The next day, Yin Lingzhu arrived at the agreed meeting place—a milk tea shop.

As soon as Yin Lingzhu entered, she saw Ji Jingrong, who had placed two cups on the table in front of her.

"I'm here." Ji Jingrong waved slightly, indicating her location.

Seeing her appearance, Yin Lingzhu smiled. Actually, she didn't need to wave—Yin Lingzhu could see her anyway.

Yin Lingzhu sat in the seat across from Ji Jingrong, and Ji Jingrong naturally pushed a cup of milk tea toward her.

As soon as she sat down, Yin Lingzhu began complaining about everything that had happened during this period.

Similar to last night's conversation topics.
