

Chapter 29-2

Yan Si took a deep breath and opened the door like she was heading to her death.

When Yin Lingzhu saw it was Yan Si, her heart jumped, and the smile she had been maintaining on her face also disappeared.

"Why is it you?" Yin Lingzhu's eyes were full of suspicion.

Yan Si knew what she was thinking.

"It wasn't me who did this." Yan Si hurriedly shook her head, "It was my brother¹. He and I have never gotten along."

Yan Si's voice gradually faded in Yin Lingzhu's ears, becoming unclear.

The drug's effects surged through her body again.

"Get lost." Yin Lingzhu squeezed out these two words through her teeth, then completely lost consciousness.

Yan Si watched Yin Lingzhu sinking into the water. Unable to explain so much, she hurriedly went in to lift Yin Lingzhu up.

Who would have known that when Yin Lingzhu felt Yan Si coming, she reached out and pulled Yan Si into the water as well.

Yan Si wasn't prepared. Her body crashed into the water and onto Yin Lingzhu's body.

Yin Lingzhu felt a wave of coolness against herself, her body feeling comfortable, and she instinctively embraced the newcomer.

Yan Si could feel Yin Lingzhu's hands on her waist. She didn't struggle or move.

She was savoring this moment—it had been so long since she had been this close to Yin Lingzhu.

When Ji Jingrong and Ming Qingyun came in and saw this scene, they both froze in place.

Ji Jingrong looked at them in surprise—Yan Si and Yin Lingzhu were at such an intimate distance.

All the things Yin Lingzhu had said to her over the past year appeared in her mind at this moment.

Prenuptial agreement, secrecy, would affect her future.

No wonder Yin Lingzhu had used those words when talking to her.

If the person she married was Yan Si, then this wouldn't be strange at all.

Ji Jingrong looked at Yan Si, then at Ming Qingyun.

When she had arrived at room 7041, she discovered that a woman had arrived at the same time as her.

This person was Ming Qingyun.

Ming Qingyun had looked anxious at the time, and Ji Jingrong could also guess that she had come to find Yin Lingzhu.

Ji Jingrong wondered, compared to these two people in front of her, did she have any chance of winning?

She momentarily fell into feelings of inferiority. She had originally thought that after Yin Lingzhu's divorce, she would have a chance.

But at this moment, she couldn't think of where her opportunity lay.

While she was in a daze, Ming Qingyun had already stepped forward and pulled Yan Si away.

"What are you doing?" Ming Qingyun said angrily.

After pulling Yan Si away, she saw Yin Lingzhu's condition.

She obviously also realized Yin Lingzhu's current situation.

Yan Si's eyes were full of hostility, "You have no right to interfere with me. What are you to Lingzhu?"

"Even if Lingzhu and I have sex², you can't control it, do you understand?"

Yan Si stood up from the bathtub. Even though her clothes were soaked through, her presence was no less imposing than Ming Qingyun's.

Hearing her words, Ming Qingyun's chest rose and fell continuously, her breathing becoming much more rapid.

"I may have no right, but Lingzhu is obviously not conscious right now. You're taking advantage of someone's vulnerability."

Hearing her words, Yan Si couldn't help but sneer, "This is my family matter. You can't control it."

As she spoke, Yin Lingzhu raised her arm, her fingertips touching Yan Si's palm.

Yan Si looked down at her and found Yin Lingzhu looking at her with unfocused eyes.

She raised her head to face the two people, her eyes taking on an urging meaning.

"Are you still not leaving? Do you want to stay here and watch the private life between us wives?"

Ming Qingyun was speechless and turned to leave.

Ji Jingrong didn't move from her spot. Yan Si's gaze fell on her.

The two sides' eyes confronted each other in the air. After a few seconds, Ji Jingrong took two steps back and also turned to leave.

Footnotes:

¹ Brother: This refers to Yan Yuan, who was mentioned in the previous chapter as orchestrating this scheme

² Have sex: The original uses "doi" which is internet slang derived from the Japanese word "dōi" (同意) meaning "consent," but in this context refers to sexual activity