

Chapter 35-2

In the afternoon, when Yin Lingzhu arrived at the film crew, she noticed something was off.

Everyone was staring at their phones, and Yin Lingzhu even heard several people exclaiming.

But because their voices were too quiet, she couldn't make out the specific content of their conversations.

It wasn't until she reached the side of her afternoon scene partner and saw that she was also looking at something that Yin Lingzhu became confused.

Had the director sent out some notification? They were all being so serious about it.

Yin Lingzhu hurriedly took out her phone and opened the chat group - there was nothing there.

Jiang Yu¹ beside her sighed, "I never would have thought that someone would actually dare to publish scandal news about Yan Si."

When Yin Lingzhu heard this, she froze for a moment and hurriedly asked, "Yan Si's scandal?"

Seeing how shocked she looked, Jiang Yu said, "Haven't you checked Weibo²? It's trending number one."

Yin Lingzhu quickly opened Weibo. "I went to sleep right after lunch and didn't pay attention."

In the number one trending position on Weibo, it clearly read: #Yan Si's Private Meeting with a Woman at a Hotel#

Yin Lingzhu's fingers trembled as she clicked on it. There were two photos inside.

The first was the silhouette of a woman entering a hotel room, and the second was a photo of Yan Si closing the door.

Even though the angle of the photos wasn't very good, the pixels were clear enough, and in the second photo, Yan Si's face was completely visible.

There were many comments below - half were people expressing surprise.

The other half were dedicated to figuring out who the woman in the first photo was.

Among them, a comment from someone called "Love New Fire Pond³" had many likes.

【Looks a bit like Si Xin⁴】

Although the first photo only captured a side profile, quite a few people still recognized her.

There were also people guessing other identities, but this comment had the highest number of likes and was positioned at the top.

However, unlike other people's scandals, there was very little criticism in the comments section.

Many people were congratulating Yan Si on finding someone.

Some people didn't understand this phenomenon and asked questions in confusion.

Soon someone explained.

【Sisi⁵ can have a partner - as a mama fan⁶, I'm very happy. I originally thought Sisi would be alone forever.】

【Yes, from her debut until now, Sisi has been focused only on acting. I really hope to have a sister-in-law⁷.】

【+1】

【+2】

.....

【+ID number⁸】

Yin Lingzhu looked at these comments, then looked at the photos again. She could naturally tell that the person in that photo was Si Xin.

She let out a long breath - as long as it wasn't her, it was fine.

Jiang Yu watched her initial alarm followed by sudden relaxation and found it amusing.

Yin Lingzhu put down her phone and saw her afternoon scene partner looking at her.

"What's wrong? There are no flowers on my face either." Yin Lingzhu found it strange.

Jiang Yu quickly said, "Nothing, I just think your expression changes really fast."

Yin Lingzhu gave an awkward laugh.

"I wonder who it was that actually dared to report on Yan Si." Jiang Yu touched her chin and said with admiration.

Yin Lingzhu didn't speak - Yan Si had nothing to do with her.

Just as Yin Lingzhu was thinking this, she heard Jiang Yu let out another exclamation.

Yin Lingzhu saw her eyes widen, staring at the screen with a look as if she'd seen a ghost.

She quickly picked up the phone she had just put down and opened Weibo.

Si Xin's Weibo had been updated just moments ago.

【Everyone, please don't speculate wildly. Sisi won't be happy about it.】

Her comment section quickly filled up with people.

【Could it really be true?】

【It really is Si Xin - I can't believe it.】

【Isn't she just riding on the popularity? I can't tell at all.】

【I think you're just jealous that our sister is with Yan Movie Queen⁹. Your main idol doesn't have this kind of ability.】

The entire comment section quickly became chaotic.

Si Xin looked with satisfaction at her rising follower count, grinning from ear to ear.

Even if Yan Si clarified things later, she could say she was a fan of Yan Si and that her Weibo post was out of concern for Yan Si.

Si Xin's calculations were working out well.

After leaving the director, Yan Si returned to the hotel and kept thinking about what exactly she had brought to Yin Lingzhu.

She spent the whole afternoon in a daze, not even opening the curtains, leaving the room completely dark.

The more she thought, the more her head ached. Finally, it was the phone ringing that pulled her thoughts back.

"President Yan, should we control the online comments?" It was her assistant's voice.

Yan Si's mind was a bit slow to process. "What comments?"

The assistant couldn't believe that her boss still didn't know about this matter. "Someone online photographed you and Si Xin at the hotel."

Yan Si's mind immediately cleared, and she quickly opened Weibo to see the number one trending topic.

Her mind exploded with a "boom."

"President Yan? President Yan?" The assistant waited for a long time but couldn't get Yan Si's response.

Yan Si's thoughts came back together.

"Remove the trending topic as quickly as possible."

After Yan Si finished speaking, she hung up the phone and rushed toward the film set.

She had to explain things clearly to Yin Lingzhu.

When Yan Si arrived at the film set, everyone's eyes were on her.

She didn't care and searched for Yin Lingzhu's location in the crowd.

After confirming Yin Lingzhu's position, she quickly walked over.

When Yin Lingzhu saw her approaching, she instinctively wanted to hide, but Yan Si blocked her path.

Everyone watched the two of them.

Seeing that Yin Lingzhu was about to leave, Yan Si immediately spoke up.

"Lingzhu, please listen to my explanation."

Footnotes:

¹ Jiang Yu: The name of Yin Lingzhu's scene partner. "Jiang" (姜) is a surname and "Yu" (魚) means "fish."

² Weibo: China's equivalent of Twitter - a major social media platform for microblogging.

³ "Love New Fire Pond": A username that appears to be a play on words or reference that might be related to Si Xin's name.

⁴ Si Xin: The character who has been pursuing Yan Si and causing trouble for the main couple throughout the story.

⁵ Sisi: An affectionate nickname for Yan Si, created by doubling the last character of her name.

⁶ Mama fan: A type of fan who treats their favorite celebrity like their own child, wanting them to be happy and have good relationships.

⁷ Sister-in-law: The fans are hoping for Yan Si to have a romantic partner, whom they would then call "sister-in-law."

⁸ +ID number: An internet expression meaning "I agree so much that I'm willing to stake my identity on it."

⁹ Yan Movie Queen: Referring to Yan Si's title as a movie queen (影後), which is an honorary title for top actresses in Chinese entertainment.