

Chapter 37-1

She suddenly remembered that Yin Lingzhu didn't want her to show that they knew each other.

Yan Si thought for a moment and had the driver change direction, heading toward the hotel where the film crew was staying.

Yan Si also didn't dare to call Yin Lingzhu, so she booked another room and put Si Xin inside.

After doing all this, she waited at Yin Lingzhu's room door until Yin Lingzhu returned from the film crew.

Yin Lingzhu was humming some unknown tune, walking with light steps into the elevator and pressing the button.

As soon as the elevator door opened, Yin Lingzhu immediately saw someone standing at her door.

Her brow furrowed slightly - it was Yan Si.

Yan Si had come to the film crew to find her at noon today, and in the afternoon she had already felt many stares.

Now Yan Si was still at her room door. If someone photographed this...

Even with eight mouths, she wouldn't be able to explain it clearly.

Thinking of this, Yin Lingzhu's good mood vanished.

She quickly walked up to Yan Si. "What are you doing here?"

Hearing Yin Lingzhu's question, Yan Si calmly moved her ankle a bit. "I want to explain to you about Si Xin and me."

Yin Lingzhu didn't want to listen, but thinking of the photo incident that happened at noon today.

She looked around alertly, confirming no one was there, then quickly pulled Yan Si into her room.

Rather than being at the door, it was better to make things completely clear this time.

Yan Si was dragged into the room by her and didn't stand steady, her knee hitting the junction between the carpet and floor.

Yin Lingzhu locked the door, and when she turned around, she saw Yan Si lying on the ground.

She was a bit surprised - she remembered her strength wasn't that great.

Seeing her frozen in place, Yan Si supported herself with her palms, planning to help herself up.

Watching her movements, Yin Lingzhu immediately came to her senses and quickly crouched down.

Supporting Yan Si's arm, she slowly helped her to sit on the sofa.

Yan Si felt the warmth of the person beside her and couldn't help feeling happy inside.

"You sit here first, I'll get you some ointment."

Yin Lingzhu looked at the wound on Yan Si's knee - the scrape was quite serious.

She found the medicine quickly, coming out in about a minute.

Yin Lingzhu originally wanted to let Yan Si apply the medicine herself, but Yan Si's wound was on her knee.

Having Yan Si apply it herself might be a bit inconvenient.

Yin Lingzhu frowned slightly as she thought.

She tentatively asked, "Can you apply the medicine to your wound yourself?"

Seeing her furrowed brow and unhappy expression, Yan Si said, "Yes, of course I can." Yan Si was afraid of making Yin Lingzhu unhappy and quickly replied.

Yin Lingzhu was somewhat surprised. The injury was on the area below the knee, and even when sitting, one's vision would be blocked.

But since Yan Si said she could do it herself, she didn't plan to do it herself.

Thinking this way, Yin Lingzhu handed the ointment to Yan Si.

After Yan Si took it, she very skillfully applied the ointment evenly to the wound.

Watching her apply the medicine, Yin Lingzhu suddenly remembered that Yan Si was famous in the industry for being dedicated to her work.

Even for action scenes, she performed them herself without using stunt doubles.

Naturally, Yan Si would be very skilled at treating various wounds.

She had just been worrying about Yan Si, but now Yin Lingzhu felt a bit regretful inside.

Someone like Yan Si - did she need her concern?

Many thoughts went through Yin Lingzhu's mind, but in reality only one or two seconds had passed.

Yan Si quickly finished applying the ointment.

"Thank you." Yan Si returned the ointment to Yin Lingzhu.

Yin Lingzhu took it - the ointment still retained a warm touch left by Yan Si.

She unconsciously rubbed it.

Seeing Yin Lingzhu not speaking, Yan Si was afraid that Yin Lingzhu would kick her out right now.

"I really didn't cheat. Si Xin and I had a transaction back then."

Yan Si's face was full of anxiety and panic.

"Si Xin's matter has nothing to do with me, and I'm not interested in listening." Hearing her explanation, Yin Lingzhu felt somewhat displeased.

"And whether you cheated or not, I don't want to know either."

"President Yan, if you came today just for this matter, then please leave."

Yin Lingzhu raised her hand, making a gesture for her to leave.

Seeing her movement, Yan Si didn't want to go.

"My leg hurts, I can't walk." She said pitifully, tears seeming to glisten in her eyes.

Looking at her face, Yin Lingzhu felt a bit skeptical inside.

But she also felt that Yan Si's expression didn't seem like she was lying.

Yin Lingzhu looked at Yan Si's leg - that wound was about the size of a one-yuan coin¹.

Even with the ointment applied, she could vaguely see it was bleeding, much more serious than a simple scrape.

She didn't know what to say.

She always felt that Yan Si was deceiving her, but she couldn't think of what reason Yan Si would have for staying here.

"Then rest for a while first." Yin Lingzhu got up from the sofa and walked toward the bedroom.

Leaving Yan Si alone sitting on the sofa.

Yan Si looked at the tightly closed bedroom door, then thought about Yin Lingzhu's attitude toward her since entering the room.

Her gaze stayed on her own knee.

After a while, she hopped to the bedroom door and gently knocked.

"What's wrong? Can you walk now?" Yin Lingzhu quickly opened the door, saying impatiently.

Yan Si looked at her appearance of wanting to quickly distance herself from her.

Her heart felt like it was being squeezed, and she almost couldn't maintain the smile on her face.

Yan Si lowered her head. "I'm sorry, am I causing you trouble?"

Hearing Yan Si's words, three question marks appeared above Yin Lingzhu's head.

What kind of trouble? Ever since the failed divorce attempt, Yan Si had always been trouble for her.

"A bit. So can you leave now?"

Yin Lingzhu could only see the top of Yan Si's head. From her angle, she inexplicably felt that Yan Si's figure looked somewhat frail.

"I feel much better now."

Yan Si didn't raise her head. Yin Lingzhu heard Yan Si's words, like the sound of a small beast afraid of being abandoned.

With a trembling tail note that made one's heart ache involuntarily.

Yin Lingzhu also had a moment of softness, but it was only a moment.

It was getting late now. If Yan Si insisted on staying here, what if she stayed overnight?

Thinking of this, Yin Lingzhu's gaze fell on Yan Si's leg.

After applying the ointment, the wound didn't look so scary.

"Is it really that serious?" Yin Lingzhu was somewhat skeptical.

Yan Si had one hand against the wall, using it to support her body.

Hearing Yin Lingzhu's questioning tone, she nodded. "Really, I have no need to deceive you."

"Alright then." Yin Lingzhu helplessly supported Yan Si's arm. "I'll help you to your room."
