

Chapter 53-2

After returning to the apartment, Yin Lingzhu let the little Golden Retriever out of the bag so she could breathe some fresh air.

The little Golden Retriever seemed to like Yin Lingzhu very much. As soon as her paws touched the ground, before she even stood steady, she wobbled over to rub against Yin Lingzhu's feet.

This was an intimacy she had never experienced before.

Watching the little Golden Retriever's happily wagging tail, Yin Lingzhu couldn't help but feel cheerful too.

Seeing this, Yan Si crouched down and watched the little Golden Retriever's adorable behavior together with Yin Lingzhu.

"I have a gathering tomorrow and need to bring a female companion."

Yan Si said this as if casually, and immediately after speaking, she covered her mouth with her hand. "If you don't want to, it's fine. At worst, I just won't bring a female companion."

Yin Lingzhu looked at her actions. "Can't you just not go to the gathering?"

Yan Si lowered her eyes, her long eyelashes covering her emotions.

"Although I'm now the company's president, many people on the board of directors don't like me."

Yan Si's tone was filled with grievance.

"I'm alone and powerless, and I don't dare to resist either."

After hearing this, Yin Lingzhu was somewhat surprised. She had thought Yan Si's position in the company should be very high.

But she hadn't expected it to be like this.

"Then I'll go with you tomorrow night." Yin Lingzhu thought for a moment and said.

A pleased expression flashed in Yan Si's eyes, but when she raised her head, her face was full of delight.

"Really?" she said happily, grabbing Yin Lingzhu's hand.

Yin Lingzhu nodded. "Of course it's true."

Looking at the little Golden Retriever who was eating dog food, the two discussed and gave her a name.

Niannian¹.

This name was chosen by Yan Si.

Yan Si looked at Yin Lingzhu, a smile appearing at the corners of her mouth.

Niannian together².

The next day, Yan Si wore a black long dress and punctually knocked on Yin Lingzhu's door.

Yin Lingzhu, who had just finished changing clothes, opened the door and was stunned for a moment. "Let's go."

Yan Si wore a low-cut dress that revealed her delicate collarbones and the soft curves that were almost but not quite exposed.

After Yan Si turned around, Yin Lingzhu discovered that Yan Si's back was also largely exposed.

Her perfect back was displayed without reservation, like a butterfly spreading its wings ready to fly.

Further down, her slender waist was outlined, covered completely by fabric, yet making one want to explore even more.

Only now did Yin Lingzhu realize how stunning Yan Si's figure was.

She glanced at her own outfit. After searching through her wardrobe for half the day yesterday, she had found that the only thing suitable for wearing to a gathering was this one suit.

Just like that, the two of them went to the venue.

After arriving at the location, Yin Lingzhu got out of the car first. She stood outside the car and extended one hand.

Yan Si's slender arm reached out, her palm resting in Yin Lingzhu's palm.

As soon as Yan Si entered the venue, she attracted everyone's attention.

This gathering wasn't actually anything important.

It was just the host's children getting engaged.

With Yan Si's status, she didn't need to come at all—she could have just sent an assistant with a gift.

No one had expected Yan Si to come.

"Is that Yan Si?" one woman asked her companion with confusion.

"I'm surprised too, but it's definitely her," her companion replied in a lowered voice.

"This is the first time she's dressed like this, isn't it?"

Similar conversations appeared among all the attendees.

Among them, some had seen Yan Si before, and some were seeing her for the first time.

But regardless, none of them had ever seen Yan Si dress like this.

Some people noticed Yin Lingzhu beside Yan Si.

They were already calculating how to establish a connection with Yin Lingzhu.

Yan Si had attended various gatherings large and small for so many years, and this was the first time someone had appeared by her side.

Yin Lingzhu saw others discussing, but couldn't hear their voices, so she felt somewhat puzzled.

But Yan Si was satisfied with this effect.

Footnotes:

¹ Niannian (年年) - A name meaning "year after year," often used to express the wish for something to continue annually or perpetually

² The phrase "年年在一起" (Niannian together) is a play on words. While the dog's name "Niannian" means "year after year," Yan Si is thinking of it as "together year after year," expressing her wish to be with Yin Lingzhu forever

³ Low-cut dress (低胸裙) - A dress style with a low neckline, considered quite bold and attention-grabbing in formal Chinese social settings

⁴ Board of directors (董事會) - In Chinese corporate culture, board politics can be particularly complex, and a young female CEO might indeed face resistance from older, more traditional board members