

Chapter 58-1

Listening to the conversation content inside, Yan Si's face had already become increasingly ugly.

She looked at Yin Lingzhu's expression, her hand placed on the table had already tightened into a fist.

She stared at the dining table in front of her, the white patterns on it making her thoughts extremely chaotic at this moment.

Until the recording finished playing, Yan Si's voice trembled, but she still didn't dare look at Yin Lingzhu.

"You know everything now?"

Yan Si's heart felt like a mountain had collapsed. She had completely no way to think at this moment.

Yin Lingzhu saw her like this, and what else was there not to understand.

She put her phone back into her pocket and looked directly at Yan Si in front of her.

Yan Si had mentally prepared herself at this moment. She slowly raised her head, but when she discovered that Yin Lingzhu was looking at her, the defenses in her heart suddenly collapsed.

The head she had raised with great difficulty instantly dropped down.

Yin Lingzhu looked at her appearance, and a sense of desolation arose in her heart.

She didn't say anything and walked toward her bedroom.

Yan Si had been paying attention to her movements with her peripheral vision. After discovering that Yin Lingzhu had gotten up, she immediately followed.

Yin Lingzhu noticed Yan Si, but at this moment, she completely didn't want to say anything to Yan Si.

She took out her identification documents from the drawer, wanting to leave this place.

Yan Si hadn't expected it would be this result. She had imagined all the scenarios after the truth was exposed, but definitely not like this.

Yan Si saw Yin Lingzhu walk past her and head straight for the apartment door.

Yan Si's heart suddenly became panicked, and she ran to Yin Lingzhu's front.

"You..." Yan Si said one word but didn't know what to say next.

Yin Lingzhu glanced at her. Her black pupils were like the deep night sea, reflecting no light at all, making Yan Si's heart tremble.

"You..." Yan Si repeated this word again but still couldn't say anything.

Yin Lingzhu reached out and pushed past Yan Si who was blocking her way, walking toward the door without any hesitation.

Yin Lingzhu didn't even pack any clothes, only taking the necessary documents.

She looked very relaxed.

Yan Si, who had been pushed aside, grabbed Yin Lingzhu's wrist when Yin Lingzhu wasn't paying attention.

"Don't leave, okay?"

Yan Si's voice was as seductive as rose juice, sticky and mellow.

Hearing the fragility in Yan Si's words, Yin Lingzhu stopped her steps.

This wasn't sympathy.

Yin Lingzhu turned around to look at Yan Si behind her.

Yan Si saw Yin Lingzhu stop and thought for a moment that she had changed her mind.

Yin Lingzhu looked at the person in front of her, expressing the desolation in her heart.

"Yan Si, even a dog would leave after being deceived countless times."

Yin Lingzhu could no longer remember how many times Yan Si had lied to her.

After saying this, she turned around, wanting to leave.

At this moment, Nian Nian¹ suddenly came out and hugged her leg.

Making whimpering sounds that made Yin Lingzhu look at it.

If it had been yesterday, Yin Lingzhu would definitely have patted its head.

But now, Yin Lingzhu's fingers moved slightly but she didn't do anything.

She freed her leg from the little dog's paws.

"Yan Si, control your dog."

After Yin Lingzhu finished speaking, she continued walking toward the apartment door.

Nian Nian seemed to be able to feel the displeasure between its owners. After being shaken off by Yin Lingzhu, it sat dumbly in place, its tail slowly rubbing against the floor.

Yan Si looked at Nian Nian, feeling a wave of panic in her heart.

"I just love you too much. Is that wrong?" Yan Si shouted at Yin Lingzhu.

Yin Lingzhu's steps paused.

"Yan Si, this isn't love at all."

Yan Si tightly pressed her lips together, looking at Yin Lingzhu's back.

Her heart was in chaos, but her gaze was determined.

"I really love you very much. I don't want you to leave."

Yin Lingzhu heard her words and a mocking smile appeared at the corner of her mouth.

"Yan Si, do you love me, or do you love my love?"

She looked at Yan Si, her eyes filled with coldness.

Yan Si was suddenly stunned, but Yin Lingzhu didn't give her a chance to speak.

"Yan Si, do you really know what love is?"

Yin Lingzhu approached Yan Si step by step.

"Love is hoping that the person you love can be happy, unconditionally hoping she can be joyful."

"But what about you?"

Yin Lingzhu stared intently at Yan Si, and Yan Si had no strength to retreat.

"Your love is possessiveness, it's destruction, it's for your own happiness."

Yan Si's mouth opened and closed for a long time, but she couldn't say anything.

Her eyes were slightly red, filled with disbelief.

Seeing that Yin Lingzhu was about to leave, she used all her strength to ask that question: "Do you still love me now, even just a little bit?"

Yin Lingzhu didn't look at her and didn't answer her question.

It wasn't until she left the apartment that her tense body finally relaxed.

At first, she had wanted to question Yan Si about why she had deceived her, why she could even tell such lies.

But when she saw Yan Si's pale face at the dining table, she didn't want to ask anything anymore.

Actually, she should have felt it before, otherwise she wouldn't have made that corn and pork rib soup.

Thinking of that dish, Yin Lingzhu looked at the room in front of her.

Yan Si's apartment was 2316, and Ji Jingrong's room number was 2315.

When she first didn't know how to cook, it was Ji Jingrong who taught her.

And the first soup she made for Yan Si was corn and pork rib soup.

She should have believed it the moment she heard Ming Qingyun play the recording.

Otherwise, how could she have chosen exactly these two dishes from so many options?

Before leaving, Yin Lingzhu took one last look at 2315.

If Ji Jingrong didn't like her, they should have been good friends.

Yan Si was in the room. She didn't dare chase after her.

She was afraid she would see Yin Lingzhu's disgusted expression.

Yan Si walked slowly to the dining table.

The other dishes had been mostly eaten, except for that soup.

Yan Si served herself a bowl and slowly began to drink it.

The soup had already gone completely cold, the fat on top had solidified, and it felt very greasy when she drank it.

But even so, she finished all of the soup.
