

Chapter 60

Ming Qingyun was only stunned for a moment before she understood what Yin Lingzhu meant at this moment.

She was also very willing to cooperate. She took the initiative to hold Yin Lingzhu's hand that had been put down.

But Yin Lingzhu didn't give her this opportunity. The moment their hands made contact, Yin Lingzhu immediately moved her hand away.

She glanced at Ming Qingyun with her peripheral vision. At this moment, in order to leave quickly, she didn't say anything.

Yin Lingzhu slowly walked to the door and passed by Yan Si without looking back.

Ming Qingyun followed behind Yin Lingzhu, and when she walked past Yan Si, she gave Yan Si a provocative look.

After they left, Yan Si's hand gripped the door handle again.

The moment the door closed, it made a loud sound, carrying her anger.

Fortunately, the staff were all busy at the moment, and no one was paying attention to this small corner.

After leaving, Yin Lingzhu noticed Ming Qingyun following behind her and immediately quickened her pace.

She wanted to shake off Ming Qingyun.

But Ming Qingyun followed behind her persistently.

No matter what Yin Lingzhu's speed was, she could always find an appropriate distance - not too close to Yin Lingzhu, but not too far away either.

Yin Lingzhu had no idea where to go. After walking around most of the film set, she found Ming Qingyun still following behind her.

She noticed that after going in a circle, she had returned to the front of her makeup room again.

She simply stopped walking.

Yin Lingzhu casually found a nearby chair to sit down and looked up at Ming Qingyun.

"What exactly do you want to do?"

Yin Lingzhu's tone revealed helplessness. Her eyes stared at Ming Qingyun, wanting an answer.

Seeing this, Ming Qingyun sat upright in the seat next to her.

Her suit didn't have a single wrinkle when she sat down. She turned her head to look at Yin Lingzhu.

The scent of her pheromones invisibly spread out.

Ming Qingyun seemed to have come to her senses now. She returned to her initial appearance, and the obsession in her eyes seemed like an illusion.

Yin Lingzhu glanced at her eyes and then looked away.

Ming Qingyun's smile at the corner of her mouth balanced the serious feeling brought by her suit.

"I hope to be your girlfriend."

Her voice was clean and crisp, like the sound of cold mountain spring water colliding.

Hearing her words, Yin Lingzhu immediately shook her head.

"No, I have..." Her words immediately stopped.

But even without saying it, Ming Qingyun understood.

Her smile became three times brighter, and anyone could tell at a glance that she was in a very good mood.

Ming Qingyun slowly moved closer to Yin Lingzhu, quietly using her voice to tempt her.

"That's just a marriage certificate. It doesn't represent anything."

Her volume was very low, making Yin Lingzhu unconsciously lean in a little.

But after hearing what Ming Qingyun said, she immediately adjusted her leaning body back.

At this moment, Yin Lingzhu's heart was also very frustrated about that certificate.

But if she relied on Ming Qingyun...

Yin Lingzhu looked at the person next to her, thinking in her heart.

Having no relationship with Yan Si would be a good thing, but if she got entangled with Ming Qingyun because of it, it felt like the gain wouldn't be worth the loss.

Ming Qingyun sat more properly, waiting for Yin Lingzhu's answer.

The two of them sat at the door of the makeup room. Although not many people passed by, the rate of people turning to look was very high.

After all, Ming Qingyun was now wearing a black suit, radiating a low-key but luxurious aura that couldn't help but attract attention.

So after Yin Lingzhu made up her mind, she looked up and found quite a few people staring at her.

Yin Lingzhu looked more carefully and realized that the focus of the surrounding people's gazes was not on her, but on Ming Qingyun.

She quietly breathed a sigh of relief, having forgotten about this.

With Ming Qingyun's status, how could she not attract attention when she was in the same place as her?

To avoid causing any unnecessary trouble, Yin Lingzhu decisively stood up.

She stood directly in front of Ming Qingyun and bowed ninety degrees to her.

"Thank you, President Ming¹. Thank you very much for your help. I won't trouble you anymore in the future." Yin Lingzhu gathered her qi from her dantian² and used all her strength to shout these words. The people nearby could hear her very clearly.

Yin Lingzhu straightened up and looked at Ming Qingyun with determined eyes.

She knew that Ming Qingyun could understand her meaning.

The smile on Ming Qingyun's face froze. She knew Yin Lingzhu's choice.

But she still felt a bit unwilling in her heart.

"Really?" she asked.

Yin Lingzhu once again gathered her qi from her dantian and used ten-tenths of her strength.

"Yes, President Ming."

Her attitude was very resolute, which left Ming Qingyun with nothing to say.

Ming Qingyun could only stand up and play along with her act.

"Good, as long as there are no other problems." Ming Qingyun got up from the plastic chair and glanced at the people around who were secretly watching.

"If you have any other problems, you can contact me anytime." She deliberately stayed in place for a few seconds.

Only after hearing Yin Lingzhu say "Take care" did she resignedly walk away.

Just after she left, someone immediately came to Yin Lingzhu's side.

"You actually know President Ming. How do you know each other?"

Yin Lingzhu glanced at the person speaking and said with a smile that didn't reach her eyes:

"President Ming is kind and helped me solve a small problem."

She thought this would be the end of it, but Yin Lingzhu didn't expect that the person asking questions hadn't left yet.

"Really? Then what kind of favor did President Ming do for you? Is President Ming easy to talk to?"

Seeing that she was getting more excited the more she talked, Yin Lingzhu quickly interrupted her.

Was she planning to ask about Ming Qingyun's entire family history?

Yin Lingzhu found it amusing. She casually answered a few questions and then immediately left.

She saw that the people around her were looking at her with very intense gazes.

Yin Lingzhu quickly slipped into her makeup room.

Fortunately, these people hadn't lost their minds enough to chase her into the makeup room.

All day long, only a few persistent people continued asking during breaks from filming. The others gave up.

For those who insisted on getting to the bottom of things, Yin Lingzhu just made up excuses to brush them off.

When the crew finished work in the evening, Yin Lingzhu was changing clothes in the makeup room.

Yin Lingzhu took off the crew's costume and put on her own clothes.

While getting dressed, she was still sighing about how wise her idea from the morning had been.

If she hadn't reacted quickly and treated their close distance as discussing a problem...

Then after Ming Qingyun left, the problems she would have encountered wouldn't have been so simple.

Yin Lingzhu clicked her tongue, feeling her throat hurt from her fantasizing.

Just as she had packed everything up and walked to the makeup room door, planning to leave, she suddenly heard knocking on the door.

Yin Lingzhu turned the door handle and opened the door.

At the door was a familiar person, and also the person Yin Lingzhu least wanted to see right now.

When she saw who it was, she didn't care about anything and directly closed the door.

Yan Si's hand, which was placed in the door gap, was caught without any defense.

"Ah!" She cried out in pain.

Yin Lingzhu looked and only then realized she had caught Yan Si's hand.

She quickly opened the door.

¹ President Ming (明总) - A formal business title showing respect for Ming Qingyun's position as a company president

² Dantian (丹田) - In traditional Chinese medicine and martial arts, this refers to an energy center below the navel. "Gathering qi from dantian" means using one's full strength or power, particularly when speaking forcefully
