

Chapter 61-1

Yin Lingzhu immediately opened the door and released Yan Si's fingers.

She planned to close the door again once Yan Si withdrew her hand.

But what she didn't expect was that Yan Si placed her hand on the door frame and refused to move it away no matter what.

Yin Lingzhu looked at the hand gripping the door frame. The four pale fingers were already visibly red.

The red marks were near the joints. Just a little more pressure and Yan Si's hand would be seriously injured in a moment.

Thinking this way, Yin Lingzhu didn't close the door for the time being.

Yan Si seized this opportunity and pushed the door open with her injured hand.

Seeing her condition, Yin Lingzhu momentarily forgot to apply force and actually let Yan Si come in.

After entering, Yan Si even closed the door behind her.

Seeing her action, Yin Lingzhu's gaze fell on the locked door.

Anger rose in her heart.

"What are you doing?"

Yin Lingzhu quickly walked to the door, unlocked it, and without caring about Yan Si's reaction, she directly wanted to go out.

Yan Si was now standing behind her in a blind spot where Yin Lingzhu couldn't see her at all.

Yan Si moved quickly and grabbed the corner of Yin Lingzhu's clothes.

Yin Lingzhu could feel the resistance from behind. She didn't care and walked forward forcefully, causing the collar in front to immediately press against her neck.

She hadn't expected Yan Si's strength to be so great.

Yin Lingzhu irritably reached behind her, precisely finding where Yan Si was grabbing her.

Discovering that Yan Si still hadn't let go, Yin Lingzhu impatiently turned around.

Her clothes also became twisted due to her turning.

She looked at her twisted clothes with a half-smile. "What's this, President Yan? Do you want me to be naked?"

Hearing her mocking tone, Yan Si immediately loosened her grip.

Seeing this, Yin Lingzhu didn't want to say another word and walked away, wanting to leave this place.

She had just glanced at the weather and estimated it would rain.

If Yan Si delayed her any longer, she wouldn't catch the bus and getting caught in the rain wouldn't be good.

She frowned, but after walking only a few steps, she was blocked by Yan Si who had caught up.

This time Yan Si didn't grab her clothes, but directly wrapped her arms around Yin Lingzhu's waist.

Yin Lingzhu suddenly felt like her body wasn't her own.

She stood in place, her mind completely blank at this moment.

Her body reacted before her mind could.

She placed her hands on Yan Si's hands and forcefully pried off Yan Si's hands that were pressed against her waist.

Yan Si was also unwilling to give up, but she could feel that her fingers weren't as strong as Yin Lingzhu's, and soon she couldn't hold on.

Just as she was about to let go, she whispered, "Please."

But her words had absolutely no effect on Yin Lingzhu.

Yin Lingzhu didn't reduce the force in her hands, and Yan Si's hands had been injured by the door earlier, so her fingers didn't have much strength left and were slowly slipping away.

The moment she completely broke free, Yin Lingzhu walked outside without stopping.

Yan Si looked at her back. "Can't you pay attention to me?"

Her voice was very loud. Fortunately, there weren't many people in the film crew at the moment, otherwise they would definitely have been attracted by her volume.

Only then did Yin Lingzhu stop. She turned back to look at Yan Si.

The wind blew past, and Yin Lingzhu's clothes swayed gently.

"What else do you need?"

Yin Lingzhu's tone wasn't heavy at all at this moment, but Yan Si's heart was very panicked.

"I, I just want you to spend more time with me." Yan Si looked at her with indescribable determination.

Looking at her like this, Yin Lingzhu suddenly exploded.

"Is playing with me fun?" The suppressed anger in Yin Lingzhu's eyes seemed to become a growing flame.

"I believe you again and again, and you deceive me again and again."

Yin Lingzhu's pupils reflected Yan Si, her voice hoarse as she raised her hand to point at Yan Si.

"When will you finally let me go?"

Her raised hand was trembling constantly, so much that even her fingertips couldn't point steadily at Yan Si.

Seeing Yin Lingzhu like this, Yan Si suddenly felt a suffocating sensation in her chest.

"I didn't want you to find out."

She gave a dry defense of herself.

Listening to her words, Yin Lingzhu closed her eyes. When she opened them again, her mood had calmed down considerably.

"What if I had never discovered it?"

She now looked at Yan Si with some mockery, lowering her raised arm.

Yan Si's eyelashes trembled. As if feeling nothing, she gripped the hand that had been injured by the door.

She knew that her next words would definitely make Yin Lingzhu angry, so before speaking, Yan Si lowered her head in advance.

"If you hadn't discovered it, then we would still be together now, and you wouldn't have left me."

Yin Lingzhu's smile carried an air of the absurd. Due to the strong wind, she had already put on a mask.

Even like this, with most of her face covered, it still couldn't hide her mockery.

"If I hadn't discovered it, then I would still be like a fool now, being deceived by you, listening to your words, doing what you want me to do."

Yin Lingzhu's words stabbed fiercely at Yan Si's heart.

Yan Si looked at the grass on the ground being blown by the wind, feeling like she was just like this plant now.

She raised her head and met Yin Lingzhu's gaze.

"I know I was wrong."

But at this moment, Yin Lingzhu didn't want to hear her apology. She asked a question.

"If I had never discovered it, when did you plan for this illness to get better?"
