

Chapter 67-2

---

【What is there that us noble members can't see?】

【Yeah, yeah, making us noble members look at a black screen and these cold words.】

【Heartless production team, is this how you treat us loyal and devoted viewers?】

Yin Lingzhu was reading for a while and preparing to sleep when a staff member from the production team reminded her that cameras were also installed in the rooms.

The staff member also told her that when it was time to rest, she could turn it off from above.

Only then did Yin Lingzhu suddenly realize and look toward the camera on the wall.

However, she quickly regained her composure and thanked the production team's staff member.

Seeing that the other person had left, she let out a long sigh and turned off the camera.

But looking at that camera, Yin Lingzhu still felt it wasn't safe.

There was no indicator on it at all—if it didn't turn off properly, you couldn't tell.

After thinking for a while, she took a cloth and covered the camera.

This was how those bullet comments came about.

Because the production team thoughtfully added subtitle prompts, they appeared very prominently on the black screen.

【The artist is currently resting, please come back tomorrow.】

The next day, after Yin Lingzhu picked up her breakfast and came to the dining table, she discovered that Wan Miaoyin was already there.

Yin Lingzhu was extremely surprised by this.

Because she had specifically gotten up early today, but unexpectedly, Wan Miaoyin was already up.

Wan Miaoyin also noticed Yin Lingzhu's expression, "Why are you so shocked?"

She said with a smile, her eyes curved like crescents.

Yin Lingzhu set down her food and shook her head, "I just didn't expect you would get up this early."

She pointed to the clock hanging on the wall, "It's only seven-thirty right now."

But Wan Miaoyin's eyes weren't looking at the clock—her gaze was fixed on Yin Lingzhu.

When Yin Lingzhu turned her head, she discovered Wan Miaoyin was watching her, so she touched her own face.

"What's wrong?"

Yin Lingzhu unconsciously asked.

Wan Miaoyin extended her finger, stopping when it was still ten centimeters away from Yin Lingzhu's face.

She pressed in the air near Yin Lingzhu's face, "There really is something on your face."

Yin Lingzhu let out an "ah" and quickly got up, wanting to find a mirror.

Wan Miaoyin hurriedly pulled her back and made her sit down.

"I haven't finished what I was saying." Wan Miaoyin paused for a moment, wanting to see Yin Lingzhu's reaction.

Anxiety appeared on Yin Lingzhu's face—she wanted Wan Miaoyin to hurry up and tell her, but was too awkward to speak up.

Wan Miaoyin laughed and said the second half of her sentence, "Some beauty."

Hearing this answer, Yin Lingzhu felt a bit shy.

She had been complimented before, but thinking about how there were so many cameras now, the feeling in her heart was still different.

【What? What? What did I just hear?】

【Such cheesy pickup lines, but I like it.】

【So stimulating this early in the morning, but I like this too.】

【The early bird gets to ship CP<sup>1</sup>, hahahaha.】

After hearing Wan Miaoyin's words, Yin Lingzhu silently buried her head and ate.

At first, Wan Miaoyin thought she was angry, but seeing the remaining blush on Yin Lingzhu's face, she understood.

Wan Miaoyin deliberately moved closer to Yin Lingzhu, "Are you angry?"

Her light breath hit Yin Lingzhu's face, making Yin Lingzhu not dare to turn her head.

"No."

Yin Lingzhu said in a small voice.

But Wan Miaoyin didn't move away from Yin Lingzhu's side—her scent continuously invaded Yin Lingzhu's nose.

"Then why are you just eating and not looking at me?"

【Wow wow wow, what does this mean?】

【I knew it—the production team wouldn't disappoint me. This early in the morning, they're giving us such good stuff.】

【Hehe hehe, hehe hehe, I'm shipping them silly.】

Yin Lingzhu held her breath, but in the current situation, she couldn't very well say it directly.

She frantically prayed in her heart for Wan Miaoyin to keep some distance from her.

But heaven clearly didn't hear her inner voice.

At this moment, Wan Miaoyin was getting even closer to her.

Yin Lingzhu snapped back to reality and quickly stuffed her breakfast into her mouth in a few bites.

"I'm done eating, you should hurry up and eat too."

After saying this, she quickly left the dining table, as if wolves were chasing behind her.

Yan Si, hidden among the staff members, watched all of this and silently clenched her fists.

She should have known long ago that this Wan Miaoyin was no good person.

Now it seemed this variety show was probably her doing too.

Yan Si stared at Wan Miaoyin—if eyes could kill, Wan Miaoyin would probably have died hundreds of times by now.

You Xiaoxiao was still standing beside Yan Si. She was there to watch over Yan Si, to prevent her from losing her rationality and doing something terrible.

But if Yan Si really lost control, she wouldn't be able to stop her either.

At that time, probably no one could stop her.

You Xiaoxiao thought this way and couldn't help but sigh.

You Xiaoxiao seemed to sense something and turned to look behind her.

But after discovering it was someone from the production team, she was stunned for a moment, thinking she had felt wrong.

Yan Si wore a baseball cap on her head and a mask on her face, dressed in the uniform work clothes of the production team.

She covered herself completely, only revealing a pair of eyes.

You Xiaoxiao was dressed the same way.

The director didn't dare assign them any tasks, just letting the two of them look around casually.

Help if they could help, but definitely don't get tired.

Yesterday, the director suddenly received a text from Yan Si's assistant saying that Yan Si wanted to visit them tomorrow.

The director didn't dare disagree—Yan Si was also an investor in this variety show.

But the director thought Yan Si was coming to inspect the work, so he worried about it all night.

This morning when she arrived, Yan Si asked for two sets of work clothes and instructed him never to mention that they had come here.

The director immediately nodded, which led to the current scene.

To better blend into the crowd—mainly so Yin Lingzhu wouldn't discover them.

Now You Xiaoxiao and Yan Si each carried a camera on their shoulders.
