

Chapter 75-2

After they left, Yin Lingzhu didn't rush back to her room.

She stepped quickly toward the hallway corner.

She wanted to know if that familiar figure she had just seen was really her.

The closer Yin Lingzhu got to that corner, the more complex her feelings became.

She couldn't describe what she was feeling inside.

When she saw that the person around the corner was indeed the one she had been thinking of, Yin Lingzhu lowered her eyes.

"Don't be angry, I'll leave right away."

Yan Si's tone was panicked, her voice trembling as she looked at Yin Lingzhu with extreme caution.

From Yin Lingzhu's angle, she could see Yan Si's legs.

She could see that Yan Si's legs were constantly trembling. Her silver high heels, normally noble and mysterious, now appeared disheveled.

Was she really that frightened?

Yin Lingzhu's gaze moved upward, falling on Yan Si's pale hands.

"Your hand?"

Yan Si quickly put her hand behind her back. "Is it very ugly? I'm sorry."

Yin Lingzhu's mind still held the image she had just seen. "How did it happen?"

With just one glance, Yin Lingzhu had seen a scar running across the back of Yan Si's hand.

And it looked like it had been there for a long time.

It definitely hadn't been there when they were filming before.

Yan Si's hand, hidden behind her back, rubbed against the scar.

The raised mark made feelings of inferiority surge in Yan Si's heart.

"There was a nail on the door that caught my hand." Yan Si's voice grew smaller and smaller. "I didn't see it."

"I've been hiding it from you, not letting you notice."

Hearing the last sentence, Yin Lingzhu suddenly let out a cold laugh.

"Not letting me notice—what, did you think I'd feel sorry for you if I saw it?"

Yin Lingzhu's words were extremely hurtful, like a sharp sword piercing Yan Si's heart.

"No, no, I..." Yan Si's spine was straight, but at this moment she inexplicably seemed helpless.

"I, I..."

Yan Si kept saying "I" several times but couldn't get any words out, finally lowering her head again.

"I'm sorry." Yan Si's voice was very muffled, carrying a weak nasal tone.

Yin Lingzhu turned her head away, not looking at her. "What are you doing here?"

At this moment, there was no one else in the hallway except Yin Lingzhu and Yan Si.

The sudden silence made Yan Si's heart extremely agitated.

She didn't know whether she should tell the truth.

If she told the truth, she was afraid Yin Lingzhu would be angry.

If she lied, she was equally afraid Yin Lingzhu would be angry.

Just as Yan Si was wondering what to say, Yin Lingzhu had already turned around, preparing to leave.

All the considerations in Yan Si's mind vanished in that moment.

She only wanted to be closer to Yin Lingzhu.

"I'm sorry." Yan Si's tone was still muffled, carrying a trembling nasal tone.

Yin Lingzhu frowned and turned back to look at Yan Si.

"Besides saying sorry, what else can you do?" Yin Lingzhu looked at her, suddenly feeling angry.

"Aren't you Yan Si? There's no need to be so humble in front of me."

Yin Lingzhu didn't know where her anger came from, but she knew she didn't like seeing Yan Si like this.

Seeing the angry Yin Lingzhu, Yan Si became even more afraid.

"I'm sorry, I know you don't want to see me." Yan Si paused. "But I really want to see you."

Hearing Yan Si's words, Yin Lingzhu crossed her arms. "So what? Do you think saying these things will make me forgive you?"

"Do you think your current appearance looks very devoted?"

"Do you think you can erase past hurts with a few words?"

Yan Si kept shaking her head. "No, that's not what I mean."

"I don't expect you to forgive me."

Looking at the somewhat helpless Yan Si, Yin Lingzhu suddenly remembered that golden retriever¹.

"Niannian² suddenly appearing that day—did it have anything to do with you?"

Footnotes:

¹ Golden retriever: Referring to a dog that appeared earlier in the story that had significance to their relationship.

² Niannian: The name of the golden retriever dog. "年年" in Chinese can mean "year after year" and is often used as a pet name, suggesting continuity or longevity.
