

Chapter 79-1

Li Li saw Qin Luo's face written with anger and suddenly realized what he had done.

As he was being dragged away by the staff holding his arms, he was still saying sweet words to Qin Luo.

But Yin Lingzhu watched their departing figures and was secretly laughing inside.

She knew that Li Li wouldn't be able to appease Qin Luo anytime soon.

Yin Lingzhu felt relieved and returned to Wan Miaoyin's side.

She had noticed earlier that Li Li and Qin Luo showed signs of separation, so she immediately had Wan Miaoyin hide.

Then she circled around to behind the unprotected Qin Luo.

Now it seemed her plan was very successful.

To help Wan Miaoyin hide better, she had only left one cameraman beside Wan Miaoyin.

The rest of the cameramen all followed her.

Thinking about what had just happened, Yin Lingzhu couldn't help but smile again.

This scene was faithfully recorded by the cameraman following her.

Everyone in Yin Lingzhu's livestream saw her lips curve upward.

"After I left, was there anyone around?"

Yin Lingzhu came to Wan Miaoyin and asked nervously.

She seemed to have seen a figure heading toward Wan Miaoyin's room earlier.

Facing Yin Lingzhu's nervous appearance, Wan Miaoyin also unconsciously became serious.

She carefully recalled the scene after Yin Lingzhu left and indeed discovered something suspicious.

"There was one person who did come this way, but he should just be a staff member. It's nothing."

Wan Miaoyin didn't take this matter to heart and just mentioned it casually.

"Besides him, there was no one else."

Wan Miaoyin thought carefully and indeed hadn't seen anyone else, so she said.

Her words, however, caught Yin Lingzhu's attention.

Yin Lingzhu looked at the environment around this room and suddenly realized that this place was just a few steps away from the changing room.

She immediately realized this was a good opportunity.

Yin Lingzhu immediately had the cameraman who was still outside come into the room, then left a crack in the door to monitor the situation outside at any time.

But the production team seemed to also notice this loophole and immediately issued an announcement over the broadcast.

[The floor where the changing room is located can be considered a safe zone where no one will be eliminated.]

Yin Lingzhu heard this news and her brow furrowed slightly.

She immediately felt that something wasn't right.

[Due to our oversight in the rules, which led to the elimination of Qin Luo and Li Li's team, they will be revived.]

[And they will receive certain compensation.]

When Yin Lingzhu heard the word "compensation," her bad premonition grew stronger.

Moreover, she was very dissatisfied with the production team's revival operation.

She knew that now the production team's heart was already on Qin Luo and Li Li's side.

But there was nothing she could do. She was now under someone else's roof and had to bow her head¹.

Yin Lingzhu's eyes darkened, and she could only comply with the arrangements.

She sighed and found that it was time to change clothes, so she had to separate from Wan Miaoyin.

They went to their respective changing rooms.

But just as she was changing clothes, she suddenly noticed that the texture under her hands felt wrong.

Her hand paused as she was taking off her clothes.

Yin Lingzhu carefully examined the clothes and immediately discovered something was wrong.

All the threads had been cut, and once she made any large movements, the clothes would definitely tear apart on the spot.

She checked all the clothes one by one and found that only her set had been tampered with.

Yin Lingzhu's fingers unconsciously rubbed the clothes as she calculated who would do such a thing.

If it wasn't Qin Luo and Li Li, then it could only be that cameraman.

Yin Lingzhu put the clothes back in their original position and walked out as if nothing had happened.

She was almost certain that this was the cameraman's doing, but she wasn't clear about when the cameraman had made his move.

Yin Lingzhu came out of the changing room first, and seeing that Wan Miaoyin hadn't come out yet, she waited at the door.

Earlier, when she had deliberately wet the cameraman's shoes, it was because she suspected this cameraman had ulterior motives.

She had seen the cameraman hiding sharp objects in his pocket. From the shape, they should be knives, and there were two of them.

The key point was that this cameraman had been following her from the very beginning.

For the first few days, this cameraman had been very normal.

Only after that noon when she had a direct confrontation with Qin Luo did this cameraman suddenly start carrying knives.

Moreover, several times when Yin Lingzhu looked back, she could see the cameraman staring at her with a sinister expression.

This made Yin Lingzhu have to be on guard.

"Let's go." Wan Miaoyin patted Yin Lingzhu's shoulder.

Yin Lingzhu looked at her and also stopped the thoughts in her mind.

She hummed in acknowledgment and began searching for the other teams again.

Footnotes:

¹ Under someone else's roof and had to bow her head: This is a Chinese idiom (人在屋檐下，不得不低頭) meaning when you're dependent on others or in a disadvantageous position, you have to be submissive and accept the situation, even if you don't like it.