

Chapter 88-1

Yin Lingzhu suddenly froze, her body becoming very stiff.

She turned her head and looked down at the person beside her.

The corner of Yin Lingzhu's mouth twitched, but given that so many people were present, it wasn't appropriate for her to say much.

When the two had walked a bit farther away, Yin Lingzhu quietly asked, "Did you point to the wrong person?"

Wan Miaoyin gave her a graceful smile, then shook her head. "No, it's you."

Yin Lingzhu suddenly began to question life itself.

"Me? Why did you point to me?"

She was extremely puzzled and confused.

"Isn't the person you like Wang Qingran?"

Yin Lingzhu's voice suddenly rose, drawing looks from people around them.

So she immediately lowered her voice.

"What exactly are you trying to do?"

Looking at Yin Lingzhu like this, the smile on Wan Miaoyin's face didn't change.

"Don't be angry. I just haven't figured out how to get along with her yet, so I wanted to familiarize myself with the process in advance with you."

Her words didn't dispel the anger in Yin Lingzhu's heart.

Originally, she had wanted to rest well tomorrow, but now she suddenly had to start some kind of Sweet Weekend.

How was this any different from working overtime?

Yin Lingzhu looked at Wan Miaoyin with eyes full of resentment.

Receiving her gaze, Wan Miaoyin found it somewhat amusing.

But she knew that right now she could only appease Yin Lingzhu.

"Please don't be angry. I'm afraid that without experience, I might make her unhappy."

Yin Lingzhu listened to her explanation and understood her meaning.

This was using her for practice.

Yin Lingzhu didn't really mind this. She nodded. "Fine, but you should have told me in advance."

Seeing that she wasn't angry, Wan Miaoyin immediately nodded. "Don't worry, I'll definitely tell you in advance next time."

Only then did Yin Lingzhu's heart feel a bit more comfortable, but she still felt something was strange somewhere.

However, when she looked at Wan Miaoyin, she couldn't figure out what the problem was.

Yin Lingzhu had no choice but to walk toward her dormitory.

She would rest well today, as tomorrow would be busy again.

Yin Lingzhu fell asleep with this thought in mind.

Actually, she didn't know what would happen tomorrow, but her intuition told her that tomorrow wouldn't be easy.

As it turned out, Wan Miaoyin's schedule for tomorrow was indeed packed full.

At eight o'clock the next morning, Yin Lingzhu stood at the entrance of the amusement park.

Her face showed complete numbness toward life.

Before seven o'clock, she had been woken up by Wan Miaoyin.

After eating breakfast, she was dragged by Wan Miaoyin into a car and brought to the amusement park.

On the way there, Wan Miaoyin had also told her about the entire day's plans.

Yin Lingzhu could only listen, as this was the show's rules after all.

Several cameramen were following behind them.

This really gave Yin Lingzhu the illusion of working overtime.

At the amusement park's ticket booth, Yin Lingzhu bought tickets at the front while Wan Miaoyin obediently lined up behind her.

After buying the tickets, Yin Lingzhu looked at Wan Miaoyin with some relief.

If only Wan Miaoyin could stay quiet and calm for the entire day.

Just as Yin Lingzhu was thinking this, she noticed Wan Miaoyin suddenly grab her hand.

Before she could react, Wan Miaoyin was pulling her and rushing forward.

Yin Lingzhu only felt the scenery around her constantly changing, while she had no idea where Wan Miaoyin was taking her.

Yin Lingzhu wanted Wan Miaoyin to slow down a bit, but found that she couldn't even open her mouth.

Wan Miaoyin was pulling her too fast, and the wind was completely blocking Yin Lingzhu's mouth.

When Wan Miaoyin stopped, Yin Lingzhu felt like she had swallowed a bellyful of wind.

Wan Miaoyin excitedly pointed at the equipment in front of them.

After Yin Lingzhu steadied herself and looked over, she felt like her soul had been scared out of her body.

She never would have imagined that Wan Miaoyin would like this kind of place.

In front of them was a track that seemed to reach endlessly into the sky.

And the sign in front clearly read 【Roller Coaster】 in three characters.

Yin Lingzhu had always kept her distance from this type of attraction.

She looked at the excited expression on Wan Miaoyin's face and had a bad feeling in her heart.

"You don't want to ride this, do you?"

In her horrified eyes, Wan Miaoyin nodded.

Yin Lingzhu forced a weak smile and silently distanced herself from Wan Miaoyin.

"You go ahead. I'll go buy you some food and won't ride it myself."

But Wan Miaoyin came to her side, linking their arms and gently swaying.

Wan Miaoyin's voice took on a coquettish tone. "I want to ride it together with you."

Yin Lingzhu felt the sensation on her arm and was torn.

Finally, seeing the pleading expression on Wan Miaoyin's face, she compromised.

"Fine, together."

Yin Lingzhu nodded resignedly.

She thought, it's just a roller coaster.

But after she sat in the seat and the staff had secured all the safety measures, the regret in Yin Lingzhu's heart suddenly intensified.

She looked at Wan Miaoyin and asked tremblingly, "Can I get off now?"

Wan Miaoyin didn't answer her, but Yin Lingzhu knew the answer from her expression.

She had no choice but to close her eyes and didn't dare open them at all.

When the car started and reached the highest point, it suddenly paused for a moment.

Yin Lingzhu thought it was over and had just opened her eyes when the car immediately started moving.

"Ahhhhh!!!!"

Yin Lingzhu's brain couldn't think of anything, and screams burst from her throat.

It wasn't until she had no strength left that her voice gradually weakened.

The car reached the lowest point and slowly came to a stop.

Only then did Yin Lingzhu feel like her soul had returned to her body. She slowly opened her eyes.

Feeling her heartbeat gradually return to calm, she looked toward Wan Miaoyin beside her.

But she discovered that Wan Miaoyin was looking at her with a face full of smiles.

Yin Lingzhu felt like she was being mocked.

She wanted to open the clasp on her seat, but felt that her hand seemed to be held by something.

Yin Lingzhu looked down and discovered that Wan Miaoyin's hand was covering the back of her hand.

She looked at Wan Miaoyin in surprise.

Wan Miaoyin followed her gaze and noticed their overlapping hands.

She gently moved her hand away and explained: "You were screaming too loudly just now, so I held your hand."

Yin Lingzhu nodded and didn't suspect anything.

She also knew how miserably she had screamed just now.

Seeing that she believed her, Wan Miaoyin breathed a sigh of relief.

After getting off the ride, Yin Lingzhu's legs were weak when she walked.

She shakily walked to a bench and slowly sat down.

Only then did Yin Lingzhu spare the attention to look at Wan Miaoyin.

Compared to her disheveled state, Wan Miaoyin looked rosy-cheeked and even seemed to hint at wanting to go again.

The moment their eyes met, Yin Lingzhu immediately looked away.

She definitely didn't want to go again.

Wan Miaoyin sat down beside Yin Lingzhu, looking at her with a face full of guilt.

"I didn't expect you to be so scared."

Yin Lingzhu's mood had mostly calmed down by now, and she waved her hand.

"It's fine, as long as you had fun today."

Hearing her words, Wan Miaoyin suddenly felt even more guilty.

She looked at the pale face of the person in front of her. "Let me buy you a bottle of water."
