

Chapter 89

Inside the Ferris wheel, after Wan Miaoyin spoke those words, Yin Lingzhu froze in place.

She felt like she had misheard.

But Wan Miaoyin seemed to know her thoughts and clearly repeated those four words again.

"I like you."

Now, Yin Lingzhu couldn't pretend she had misheard anymore.

She looked at Wan Miaoyin.

"Is this part of the rehearsal in advance?"

Yin Lingzhu smiled awkwardly, her tone uncertain.

Although she knew in her heart that this possibility was very small, she still asked with the hope of "what if."

But Wan Miaoyin shook her head, and her eyes seemed to be sparkling with light.

"I'm sorry, I lied to you before."

Her words shattered Yin Lingzhu's last hope.

During these past few days together, she had really grown to like Wan Miaoyin as a friend.

But Yin Lingzhu also knew that her feelings for Wan Miaoyin were only friendship, without any other thoughts.

Perhaps in the past they had ambiguous moments, but now she didn't have any such feelings.

Yin Lingzhu lowered her eyes to look at Wan Miaoyin in front of her, her emotions complex.

She knew that once she spoke words of rejection, they would never be able to be friends again.

Yin Lingzhu pressed her lips together and looked away.

"You should find someone better."

Her words made Wan Miaoyin's heart feel like it had fallen into an icy abyss.

Wan Miaoyin's voice trembled with humble pleading.

"Isn't there even the slightest possibility?"

Hearing this, Yin Lingzhu's heart softened, but she knew not to give false hope.

She nodded. "You'll meet someone better than me, someone who loves you."

Yin Lingzhu's words were very clear.

Even though Wan Miaoyin was unwilling in her heart, she could only give up.

She looked at Yin Lingzhu in front of her. The neon lights of the night shone through the glass into the cabin, illuminating Yin Lingzhu's face.

The colorful light reflected on Yin Lingzhu's flawless cheeks, brilliant yet distant.

Wan Miaoyin closed her eyes.

The Ferris wheel continued to turn methodically.

【I guess after this ride ends, today should be over, right?】

【Sigh, watching them play all day makes me want to go out and have fun too.】

【Why can't the cameramen be with them? I can't hear what they're saying at all.】

【Me too, and maybe because they're in different cabins, even what I can see is very blurry.】

【I actually think this is good. Wouldn't having cameramen up there ruin the atmosphere?】

【I bet after they both come down, their relationship will be even better. This is a Ferris wheel after all, the ultimate tool for developing feelings.】

The discussion in the bullet comments was unknown to Yin Lingzhu and Wan Miaoyin.

At this moment, the cabin was silent.

Wan Miaoyin looked up, and you could see the hope in her eyes clear to the bottom.

"Let's still be friends in the future."

After hearing this, Yin Lingzhu nodded.

But they both knew they couldn't go back to how things were before.

When they came down from the Ferris wheel and the cameramen could film them up close again, all the viewers noticed something was wrong.

【What's going on? This isn't what I expected.】

【Yeah, such a romantic attraction, but why do I feel the atmosphere between them is strange?】

【When they came down, I seemed to sense awkwardness and silence. I must be sensing it wrong.】

【I'm with you on that. I also feel the atmosphere between them is very quiet.】

Under everyone's watchful eyes, during the entire journey back, they didn't say a single word.

This undoubtedly confirmed that the viewers' previous guesses were correct.

【What happened? My CP¹ is having their first obvious bad ending.】

【Ahhh, please don't have a bad ending, I'm begging.】

The cameramen following Yin Lingzhu and the others could most clearly feel the atmosphere between these two people.

They knew that something must have happened on the Ferris wheel.

Yan Si watched their estranged appearance, but her heart couldn't feel happy.

When she saw Yin Lingzhu and Wan Miaoyin being intimate, her heart was very jealous.

But when she saw the smile on Yin Lingzhu's face when she was happy, her heart couldn't help but feel joy too.

But now, Yan Si's gaze stayed on the screen.

Yin Lingzhu's expression inside was very flat, showing no emotion at all.

Yan Si knew this was how Yin Lingzhu looked when she was unhappy.

She hoped Yin Lingzhu could always be happy, no matter who she was with.

As long as Yin Lingzhu could be happy, anything would be fine.

Yan Si's eyes reflected the person on the screen.

Yin Lingzhu had already suffered enough grievances with her. She didn't want Yin Lingzhu to still be sad after leaving her.

So, she was willing to let go.

Ji Jingrong, who was only separated by a wall from her, was also watching this live broadcast.

Compared to the other viewers in the live chat who were confused, she immediately knew what had happened.

She had had the same experience before.

From Yin Lingzhu's expression, Ji Jingrong understood that Wan Miaoyin must have confessed to her.

She watched Yin Lingzhu's eyes, and she could be certain that Wan Miaoyin's confession had definitely failed.

Because at this moment, Yin Lingzhu's expression was exactly the same as when she had rejected her.

A bitter smile appeared at the corner of Ji Jingrong's mouth. She had also taken a gamble before.

But obviously, she had lost completely.

She left this city partly due to pressure from Yan Si, and partly because she needed to calm herself down.

After returning to this city, she had made up her mind to definitely win Yin Lingzhu over.

But looking at Wan Miaoyin's appearance and thinking back to herself, she suddenly wasn't sure if her determination could really move Yin Lingzhu.

Thinking of this, a dejected expression appeared on her face.

After Yin Lingzhu reached the venue rented by the production team, she said goodbye to Wan Miaoyin and quickly returned to her room like she was escaping.

Tonight's events were still a bit shocking for her.

She hadn't expected that Wan Miaoyin would actually confess to her.

Yin Lingzhu lay on the bed with a look of disbelief.

It wasn't that she hadn't noticed anything. During some games, she had also been a bit suspicious.

But then Yin Lingzhu remembered that when they first met, Wan Miaoyin had told her that she already had someone she liked.

It was this behavior that successfully dispelled all of Yin Lingzhu's doubts.

Therefore, when Wan Miaoyin suddenly confessed today, it caught Yin Lingzhu completely off guard.

She still didn't know how to face Wan Miaoyin tomorrow.
