

Chapter 95

"Forgive her? When I was lying on the operating table for her, who considered me?"

Yin Lingzhu's eyes turned red, filled with grievance and erupting hatred.

"Even if she died here today, it would be what she owes me."

After saying this, Yin Lingzhu slammed the door shut heavily.

You Xiaoxiao belatedly realized that she seemed to have done something wrong.

She looked regretfully at Yan Si lying on the bed and sighed.

She had originally wanted to say good things and gain sympathy.

But she didn't expect it to have the opposite effect.

And it seemed that when Yin Lingzhu had just closed the door, the sound was too loud.

Yan Si slowly opened her eyes.

"How is she? Is she alright?"

Yan Si asked immediately.

You Xiaoxiao casually sat down on a chair and shrugged.

"She just came, and now she's left again."

Yan Si's throat seemed to hurt even when breathing. She looked at You Xiaoxiao.

"Is she alright?"

You Xiaoxiao nodded. "Of course she's fine, but your body is in danger now."

When Yan Si heard You Xiaoxiao say that Yin Lingzhu was fine, she closed her eyes.

Her body wasn't important. As long as Lingzhu was healthy, that was enough.

Yin Lingzhu returned to her hotel angrily and sat on the bed.

Her mind uncontrollably recalled what had just happened.

When she saw Yan Si lying on the bed, lips pale, looking completely lifeless, she knew her heart had softened.

Yin Lingzhu closed her eyes tightly, wanting to remove this image from her mind.

After a while, she opened her eyes again.

She had figured it out - she simply couldn't do it.

Yan Si occupied a pivotal position in her life.

So she always had special feelings toward Yan Si.

Yin Lingzhu picked up her phone and sent a message to Yang Daiyi.

[Sister Yang, are there any programs recently, preferably singing ones?]

Yang Daiyi's reply was also quick.

[There are some, but with your current status, that program can't afford you.]

Yin Lingzhu didn't really care about this. She simply wanted to use work to numb herself, to stop thinking about Yan Si.

When she was about to ask Yang Daiyi to sign the contract for this program, Yang Daiyi's next words made her abandon the idea.

[Moreover, with your abilities, if you participate in this show, people online will probably say some unpleasant things, which wouldn't be good for your reputation.]

The text Yang Daiyi sent instantly made Yin Lingzhu give up this idea.

She just wanted to escape reality, not planning to ruin her reputation.

Yin Lingzhu put down her phone and looked at the scenery outside the window, her heart in turmoil.

Yan Si, oh Yan Si.

She really didn't know what to do.

In the villa, You Xiaoxiao looked at Yan Si lying on the bed, struggling internally.

Yan Si also noticed You Xiaoxiao's unease.

She didn't look at You Xiaoxiao, but stared directly at the ceiling opposite her.

"Speak up. What's wrong?"

You Xiaoxiao was feeling guilty at the moment. When Yan Si said this to her, she was immediately startled.

She guiltily glanced toward Yan Si, and seeing that Yan Si wasn't looking at her, her tense nerves relaxed a little.

You Xiaoxiao tugged at her collar, still not knowing how to speak.

But Yan Si had pretty much guessed it.

"The hospital matter - you told Qin Ruri about it."

Having her deepest secret exposed, You Xiaoxiao suddenly raised her head.

Due to excessive surprise, You Xiaoxiao even began to stutter when speaking.

"You, how do you know?"

Yan Si tilted her head slightly. "Because it's obvious."

Regarding this hospital, You Xiaoxiao was the most familiar with the distribution of various shares.

Except for You Xiaoxiao, no one could have leaked the information so quickly.

She didn't share her thoughts with You Xiaoxiao.

"How did you get in contact with Qin Ruri?"

You Xiaoxiao was stunned by this question.

She carefully recalled what had happened this morning and also realized something was wrong.

She had almost no contact with Qin Ruri. How had Qin Ruri found her?

You Xiaoxiao frowned and shared her thoughts with Yan Si.

Yan Si lay on the bed, opened her phone, and a news item came into view.

Ming Group and Qin Group reach cooperation agreement.

Yan Si immediately sat up from the bed, struggling to get down.

You Xiaoxiao was alarmed and didn't want Yan Si to get out of bed.

"Your body now should rest well for a period of time before doing other things."

But Yan Si didn't want to listen to what You Xiaoxiao said. She pushed away You Xiaoxiao's hand that was coming to support her.

"I must go."

Yan Si got down from the bed, breathing heavily.

Just this action made Yan Si's vision go dark, using all her strength.

But this didn't stop her steps.

She looked at You Xiaoxiao seriously, sweat appearing on her forehead.

"I promised Lingzhu I would give her the best of everything."

You Xiaoxiao looked at her and repeated what Yin Lingzhu had said before leaving this morning.

After hearing it, Yan Si's expression didn't change at all.

She smiled calmly. "She's right. This is all what I owe her."

Yan Si walked out the door with determined steps.

She must give the best to Yin Lingzhu.

You Xiaoxiao watched her stubborn appearance, feeling very anxious.

She knew that Yan Si had made up her mind, and no one could persuade her.

But now it was different. You Xiaoxiao knew that Yin Lingzhu could persuade Yan Si.

But You Xiaoxiao also knew that given Yin Lingzhu's attitude this morning, she wouldn't help her.

You Xiaoxiao immediately caught up with Yan Si and supported her arm.

"Let's go. Do whatever you want to do."

Yan Si smiled at her.

In the hospital office, Ming Qingyun and Qin Ruri smiled at each other.

"Thanks to President Ming for telling me this news."

Ming Qingyun overlooked the entire city, listening to Qin Ruri's proud words, her eyes also revealing ambition.

"However..."

Qin Ruri's words stopped abruptly, seeming to carry some difficulty.

Ming Qingyun narrowed her eyes. "However what?"

Qin Ruri walked behind Ming Qingyun. "However, that Yin Lingzhu might be in danger after this manipulation."

Hearing Yin Lingzhu's name, Ming Qingyun clenched her fists. When she released them, four deep marks appeared on her palm.

"Her affairs don't need your concern."
