

Chapter 98

Yan Si also found out where Yin Lingzhu was staying. She didn't mind Yang Daiyi's deception.

At this moment, Yan Si had the driver go at the fastest speed to where Yin Lingzhu was staying.

But at the entrance, the hand she had raised fell down again.

Yan Si's back leaned against the wall, silently lowering her head.

She didn't know what to say to Yin Lingzhu.

Yin Lingzhu also stopped in her tracks just as she was about to leave.

Her gaze was fixed on the entrance, not taking a step for a long time.

After a while, her back leaned against the door as she looked at the floor.

Time seemed to stand still at this moment.

After an unknown amount of time, Yan Si lifted her legs and slowly left the hotel.

She wasn't suitable to meet with Yin Lingzhu right now.

Yan Si pressed her lips together, frowning tightly, her footsteps getting faster and faster, making constant sounds.

For now, she should go deal with Qin Ruri and the hospital.

Yan Si's eyes emitted a cold light.

After hearing the footsteps at the door, Yin Lingzhu suddenly awakened from her own world.

She raised her head, her eyes showing some confusion.

All the furniture in the hotel room gave off a cold, mechanical feeling, just like the disinfectant in hospitals.

Yin Lingzhu thought this way, but her body automatically found the bed and lay down on it.

She looked at the ceiling, but Yan Si's face appeared again.

After leaving the hotel, Yan Si didn't linger anywhere else and headed straight to the hospital.

Throughout the journey, Yan Si's face showed no expression.

The secretary sitting beside her, reporting work, felt nervous and mispronounced several words, immediately looking at Yan Si.

But Yan Si just hummed in acknowledgment and told the secretary to continue.

The secretary's eyes were full of confusion, but she didn't dare say anything more and could only continue reporting the documents as Yan Si instructed.

Actually, Yan Si didn't listen to a single word the secretary said. Her mind was full of thoughts about Yin Lingzhu.

All the preparations were ready now; it was just the final strike.

Yan Si was lost in thought about how she should meet with Yin Lingzhu after this matter was resolved.

And what the first thing she should say when she met with Yin Lingzhu would be.

Yan Si could easily be invincible in the business world, but when it came to Yin Lingzhu, she was completely helpless.

She sighed, feeling troubled and not knowing what to do.

The secretary was speaking when she suddenly heard Yan Si's reaction. Her already tense body made her heart jump to her throat.

"President Yan, is there something I'm doing wrong?"

The secretary asked nervously.

Seeing her such a big reaction, Yan Si instinctively became displeased.

She frowned. "You're very afraid of me."

This secretary had just taken office and wasn't very familiar with Yan Si's habits.

After seeing Yan Si's cold face today, she thought Yan Si was someone difficult to get along with.

Seeing her appearance, Yan Si's tightly furrowed brow didn't relax either.

"Continue speaking."

Yan Si closed her eyes, letting her facial muscles relax so she wouldn't look so fierce.

The secretary picked up the documents in her hands and carefully began reading again.

Soon, the low-key black sports car stopped at the hospital entrance.

Yan Si opened her eyes, the hostility in them not yet restrained.

Someone at the hospital entrance saw Yan Si arrive and immediately had someone go upstairs to notify Qin Ruri.

Yan Si looked at the hospital's main entrance and nodded to the car behind her.

A group of people immediately got out of the car, dispersing to various locations and surrounding the hospital's exits.

Seeing their movements, Yan Si then strode into the hospital.

Qin Ruri listened to his subordinate's report and kicked the table hard.

"What are you all good for? So slow!"

He angrily looked at the person in front of him.

When he learned that Yan Si was coming, he had people transfer his assets.

But until now, the people he hired were so inefficient.

"How much money have you transferred now?"

Qin Ruri's voice was very anxious.

When he learned that only tens of millions had been transferred, Qin Ruri immediately flew into a rage.

"You're all useless! Hurry up!"

Qin Ruri quickly walked out of the office and happened to encounter Yan Si coming upstairs.

A flattering smile immediately appeared on his face.

"What wind brought President Yan here?"

Yan Si was too lazy to beat around the bush with him and directly threw out a stock certificate.

"Take a careful look. Who holds the largest share of this hospital now?"

The stock certificate flew from Yan Si's hand and lightly fell to the ground.

Qin Ruri looked at the white document lying on the floor and clenched his fists.

He knew what was on that document, but his heart still held a bit of hope, hoping for a miracle.

He bent down toward Yan Si and picked up the stock certificate that had fallen at his feet.

When he saw that Yan Si held more than fifty percent of the shares, Qin Ruri crumpled the paper.

But actually, he knew in his heart that if Yan Si dared to come alone, she must have made sufficient preparations.

"President Yan, truly thunderous methods."

Qin Ruri said with sarcasm.

Yan Si didn't care what he said. She smiled. "You'd better behave yourself and stop struggling."

But Qin Ruri suddenly retreated, using the emergency exit to try to escape from the hospital.

Yan Si wasn't in a hurry to chase him. The people she had arranged beforehand weren't just for show.

She stood somewhat melancholically in the white corridor, thinking about Yin Lingzhu.

This matter was resolved, but what about Yin Lingzhu?

What identity should she use to face Yin Lingzhu?
