

Chapter 82_2 - Not Demon

After a moment of silence, Jiuying's voice suddenly rang out: "Don't act rashly. You can't handle them. See that hooded person in the corner? That person has the highest cultivation in this hall. They must be the one Penglai sent to deal with you. If you strike now, you'll be playing right into their hands."

"Enough, stop wasting time," Wen Yaojun grew increasingly impatient. However, just as his words ended, the hall doors were suddenly burst open by something. Everyone looked toward the entrance in unison.

What burst through the doors was actually a chubby white dog. It ran into the hall as if extremely frightened, barking loudly as it ran.

"Where did this dog come from!" The immortal soldiers guarding the door quickly raised their spears to block it, but the round dog was unusually agile, dodging and weaving so that not a single white hair was lost.

"Woof woof woof, woof woof..."

"What is it saying?" Ning Fuyi's mind buzzed, no longer caring about anything else.

"It's saying: barrier, Divine Venerable, demon clan," Jiuying's voice came through.

Barrier... Tranquil Mountain Palace was so quiet because of a barrier. Divine Venerable, demon clan - could it be that right now...

Ning Fuyi was greatly alarmed. She suddenly looked up and, taking advantage of everyone watching the dog, seized a spear from an immortal soldier's hand and hurled it fiercely toward "Elder Yuan Ming." The spear flew like an arrow released from its string, trailing afterimages. "Elder Yuan Ming" saw this and quickly dodged, but was still pierced through one corner of his body.

Thus, before everyone's eyes, the original human form deflated like a punctured flour sack, black sand pouring out and transforming into wisps of dark shadow trying to escape from the hall.

"Demon, demon clan!" Elder Jingshan nearly jumped up. "Quick, stop it!"

Elder Pingyao saw this and drew her sword, immediately striking down the dark shadow at the doorway. She said in shock: "It really is a demon! Where is Elder Yuan Ming?"

"Elder Yuan Ming is the demon clan! Let me out!" Ning Fuyi's hands wouldn't stop trembling. After saying this in a low voice, she turned and rushed toward the hall exit, but the hall doors slammed shut before her again. A group of immortal soldiers formed ranks in front, blocking her path.

"I'm not a demon! Now that you've seen where the real demon clan is, why don't you go capture them instead of staring at me? What skill is that!" Ning Fuyi could no longer contain the layers of rising fury, nor suppress the hoarseness in her voice. "Elder Pingyao, she's fighting the demon clan alone - why aren't you going to help her!"

Elder Pingyao stepped forward as if to say something, but upon meeting Ning Fuyi's bloodshot eyes, she fell silent, clenching her fists. Without wasting time, she reached out to pull the other elders away.

Thus only Penglai people and a few disciples remained in the hall.

Ning Fuyi once again felt the helplessness and anger of being unable to control her fate. She forcibly suppressed her murderous intent and slowly turned around.

Even the divine sword couldn't stand it anymore. Lovesickness appeared in her palm like smoke, emitting angry sword cries.

"A divine sword? You actually have a divine sword," Wen Yaojun said in surprise.

"So you don't care about the demon clan at all - you're determined to eliminate me?" she said in a low voice. "Then what if I must leave today no matter what?"

"After this matter ends, I will naturally go eliminate demons. But if you truly persist in your delusion, I can only follow orders and execute you," Wen Yaojun stood unmoved with hands behind his back. "Hei Lin¹."

As soon as his words fell, the hooded figure who had remained silent suddenly moved, their body transforming into a streak of dark light rushing toward Ning Fuyi. At the same time, enormous pressure nearly made Ning Fuyi fall to her knees. Her chest felt tight and painful, blood immediately soaking her throat, and she could only desperately raise her sword to resist.

"Fuyi!"

"Ning Fuyi!"

Rong Jin and the others' voices came from beside her, but no one could intercept such powerful immortal force in time. At the critical moment, a beast's roar suddenly came from overhead. Jiuying appeared in mid-air at some point, blocking that person's long blade with her bare hands.

The radiance belonging to qilin filled the divine hall. Azure scales formed battle armor, and her red dress hem was blown upward by the wind from the collision of two forces.

"In memory of your protecting me just now, this old lady will help you once more, helping you block these hypocritical things! It's been a long time since I've had a fight - I want to see whether these immortals can beat me, a demonic beast!"

Jiuying laughed wantonly, and the phantom of a qilin suddenly appeared behind her, raising its head in a fierce, piercing roar that blew the immortal soldiers crashing out of the hall, taking an entire wall with them. The majestic Cloud Deep Hall began to shake and slowly collapse.

"Hei Lin, quickly kill this demonic beast!" Wen Yaojun shouted angrily, flying up to strike down with the Demon-Subduing Staff. However, Jiuying suddenly transformed into her true form, her massive body immediately splitting Cloud Deep Hall apart, causing flying sand and debris to create chaos on the spot, barely buying time.

"Go quickly!" With Jiuying's angry roar in her mind, Ning Fuyi spat out a mouthful of fresh blood and turned to run through the ruins.

However, there were too many people blocking her. Just as she managed to shake off those Penglai people, fierce fire appeared before her, and Mei Chengsi's figure emerged from the flames:

"Audacious demon, where are you fleeing!"

Before his words ended, he struck a palm toward Ning Fuyi. This palm used full force - thick immortal power mixed with scalding fierce fire surged toward Ning Fuyi's heart. Ning Fuyi gritted her teeth and summoned pink light to block in front of her, but was still pierced through the lungs by the residual energy, pain spreading from her heart to her limbs.

Her body went limp, and she half-knelt on the ground supporting herself with her sword, blood flowing from her mouth and nose, dripping to soak the earth.

Mei Chengsi obviously had no intention of letting her go. Pressing his advantage, he struck another palm, but this palm didn't land on her body - it was intercepted by another figure.

That person's face was full of shock, flames burning on his chest as he fell backward.

Ning Fuyi's body froze. She stared with crimson eyes, motionless as she watched the man fall at her feet.

Fierce fire still lingered on his chest. That handsome, gentle face was now convulsing with pain, blood gurgling from his mouth, creating a mess on the ground.

"Fuyi, quickly, run quickly..." Rong Jin pulled at her hem, saying the same words as in her previous life.

Her head began to hurt again, accompanied by chest pain, causing chaos to suddenly arise in her mind.

All sorts of scenes from her previous life immediately swept through her mind, causing the murderous intent that had been eliminated in this life to be dredged up again, slowly devouring the heart that had almost healed.

Mei Chengsi was also startled to see he had mistakenly injured someone. Just as he was about to say something, he saw bright pink light blazing before him. The vivid, dazzling pink swept across heaven and earth. Unable to defend against it, his body suddenly flew up, smashing through the white jade railings in front of Cloud Deep Hall.

He was severely injured by that force, rolling once before landing, covering his heart in terror as he vomited blood: "Vile creature! Come, someone..."

However, halfway through his words, a woman's ethereal voice reached his ears. That voice was gentle yet vicious, like an echo from hell. This was also the last sentence he would hear in this life.

The woman said: "Lovesickness."

Footnotes:

¹ Hei Lin (黑鳞) - "Black Scales," the name or title of the mysterious hooded figure working for Penglai