

Chapter 24-1

Huayue International<sup>1</sup>, top floor.

The night lights of Haifang City blazed like day, traffic flowed endlessly on the roads, and the entire city was still immersed in bustling noise.

In the suite, the night scene had already begun.

An Omega's voice was delicate, her body soft, her tone rising and falling like ocean waves.

The woman standing outside the suite removed her black suit jacket, casually throwing it onto the sofa.

While waiting for the person inside to finish, she stood by the window and lit a cigarette, opening half a window as she did so. The smoke merged into the late autumn evening breeze, the tip of the cigarette glowing crimson red.

Soon, the sounds inside the suite gradually died down.

A beautiful mixed-race Omega emerged from the suite. She had deep features and a pair of blue eyes, wearing only a dark coat with her two slender white legs exposed underneath. Inside, she was probably wearing something see-through.

Her face showed no sign of satisfaction whatsoever.

Nevertheless, she left the room in a huff.

After a long while, Cheng Ran came out of the room wearing a bathrobe. She walked to the window, wrinkled her nose slightly, and said familiarly, "Give me one."

Zhou Yian flicked the cigarette ash and said meaningfully, "That was quite short."

Cheng Ran: "....."

"Wasn't it because you came?" Cheng Ran shot her a sideways glance and went straight to the coffee table to take a cigarette from the box, lighting it.

"Not very satisfying." Cheng Ran took a drag of her cigarette, her hair casually draped over her shoulders. "That place was enhanced—felt like nothing but silicone when you touched it."

"The face was decent." Zhou Yian had already finished her cigarette and casually flicked the butt into the trash can, teasing, "You saw Xu Qingzhu, so you casually found a substitute, right? Someone like that has probably been through countless beds."

"No." Cheng Ran said, "She just started in this business, it was her first time."

Zhou Yian raised an eyebrow, just smiled without saying anything.

"What are you here for?" Cheng Ran asked. "Didn't you say we wouldn't meet for a while?"

"My baby won't reply to me, so I was bored and came to play with you." Zhou Yian's eyes were fixed intently on Cheng Ran. Cheng Ran pulled her bathrobe tighter and smoothed her long hair. The cigarette happened to fall on her hair tips, and immediately the room was filled with the unpleasant smell of burning hair.

Zhou Yian lowered her head and chuckled softly, saying sarcastically, "Look how scared you are."

Cheng Ran quickly extinguished the cigarette and casually threw the butt on the coffee table.

She grabbed several tissues to wipe her hair and hands, saying as she did so, "Isn't it because you're being ridiculous? That joke wasn't funny at all."

This remark carried some probing intent.

"Not funny?" Zhou Yian put one hand in her pocket. "And here I thought I was the joke king."

"That's all your delusion." Cheng Ran replied without thinking.

Zhou Yian chuckled lightly and shrugged indifferently, "Perhaps."

"Alright, stop playing riddles with me. Just say whatever it is directly." Cheng Ran got up and poured herself a glass of red wine, taking a light sip. "I'm a bit tired."

"Then let's sleep together?" Zhou Yian smiled seductively.

Cheng Ran: "....."

"Do you think it's possible for me, an Alpha?" Cheng Ran scoffed. "You can try this idea on Liang Shi, but I'm not playing along."

"Being a pillow princess<sup>2</sup> can be quite pleasant too. Don't you want to try?" Zhou Yian was wearing a black shirt today with two buttons undone at the collar, revealing her beautiful collarbone.

She had an exquisite collarbone-length bob, dark tea-colored, just perfectly exposing her collarbone, and wore a silver star pendant necklace.

Her shirt sleeves were rolled up halfway, revealing a blue moon tattoo on her arm.

Honestly speaking, this person was quite beautiful.

If they were to sleep together, it would probably be quite an experience.

However...

Cheng Ran smiled mockingly, "If you're willing to be the pillow princess, I could consider it."

"Really?" Zhou Yian suddenly moved closer to her, smiling wickedly. "Then let's try it."

Cheng Ran's gaze wavered somewhat.

She didn't know whether Zhou Yian was being serious or not.

As a debauched Alpha, she had slept with at least a hundred women.

But they were all Omegas or Betas.

Betas' bodies weren't as soft as Omegas', so she still preferred Omegas.

With Alphas, she had never actually tried.

Mainly because when two Alphas sleep together, the pillow princess would get sick.

Cheng Ran liked wild things, but being wild to the point of getting herself killed wasn't worth it.

At this moment, the room was completely silent. After a few seconds, Cheng Ran smiled and pushed Zhou Yian away. "Stop joking around, I might take it seriously."

Zhou Yian smiled and sat down, taking another cigarette from the coffee table. "Just kidding."

Her voice was lazy and hoarse, but it carried a somewhat sinister tone. "I still prefer my baby."

Cheng Ran also sat down. "Speak up, what did you come to find me for?"

Zhou Yian looked sideways at her, exhaling a puff of smoke. With her vision blocked by the smoke, she smiled and said, "I can't tell—you're quite merciful."

"What do you mean?" Cheng Ran asked.

Zhou Yian's voice became a bit colder. "Why didn't you sleep with Xu Qingzhu? Or why didn't you let someone else sleep with her? I said I wanted to see the video, didn't I?"

Cheng Ran inexplicably shivered.

She flipped her long hair. "What's the point? You just need to get Liang Shi anyway."

"But I like watching my baby heartbroken." Zhou Yian's tongue touched her teeth, making a clicking sound. "Especially when she's heartbroken enough to come crying and begging me—that would make me even more interested."

Cheng Ran: "....."

"Xu Qingzhu has PTSD<sup>3</sup>." Cheng Ran said, "If it leads to someone's death, it would be hard to clean up."

Zhou Yian glanced over, and Cheng Ran lowered her head, not meeting her gaze.

"Didn't I say I would clean it up? You just need to do what I tell you." Zhou Yian's voice became even more cold and thin. "You can't even handle this little thing properly, how can you continue cooperating with me? Or are you getting soft-hearted?"

Zhou Yian's finger suddenly hooked under Cheng Ran's chin. "You'd rather come back here to sleep with an artificial product than sleep with Haifang's number one Omega. You really have deep feelings for my baby."

Cheng Ran was forced to meet her gaze. In those eyes, she couldn't see a trace of warmth.

All she saw was cold killing intent.

"You used the wrong word." Cheng Ran pulled away from her grip. "I've cut ties with Liang Shi. I told you, I don't want to cause someone's death."

"This place isn't exactly clean either. When you all went crazy, what haven't you done?" Zhou Yian smiled, but the smile didn't reach her eyes. "Like this, I can't continue cooperating with you."

"Then let's not cooperate." Cheng Ran said, "After this time, we're done."

Cheng Ran didn't want to cooperate anyway—she didn't like Zhou Yian's condescending attitude.

"Is this time really over?" Zhou Yian looked sideways at her. "Xu Qingzhu is perfectly fine, and you handed her over to my baby. What do you think they'll do tonight?"

Cheng Ran: "....."

"Cheng Ran." Zhou Yian stood up and grabbed her suit jacket. "Don't be soft-hearted again next time."

Cheng Ran clenched her fists. "I told you, I'm not cooperating with you anymore."

"Huaguang Group<sup>4</sup> is applying for the construction rights to the Bay Bridge. Do you think this is important to your father?" Zhou Yian smiled. "Some things aren't up to you. I'm magnanimous—I'll forgive you this time. But next time, if you make a mistake, I'll tie you up."

Cheng Ran suddenly felt a chill down her spine.

She felt like she was cooperating with a venomous snake.

And this venomous snake might turn around and bite her at any moment.

Even after Zhou Yian left, Cheng Ran still hadn't come to her senses.

After a long while, she drained the wine in her glass and suddenly threw the glass hard.

The glass shattered with a crash, glass fragments scattering all over the floor.

Damn it.

Zhou Yian was really fucking psychotic.

---

Footnotes:

<sup>1</sup> Huayue International: A luxury hotel/entertainment complex

<sup>2</sup> Pillow princess: A term referring to the passive partner in a sexual relationship

<sup>3</sup> PTSD: Post-Traumatic Stress Disorder

<sup>4</sup> Huaguang Group: A construction company

Chapter 24-2

//

The early autumn evening breeze carried a hint of coolness. Liang Shi carried Xu Qingzhu hurriedly downstairs.

Xu Qingzhu was draped in her jacket. Usually she looked quite tall, but now curled up in Liang Shi's arms, she appeared small and delicate. However, her hands were restless, wandering from her lower abdomen to her chest.

Even through the clothing, she could touch softness.

Liang Shi was nearly made to groan several times by her touches. Fortunately, her jacket provided cover, preventing the actions from being too explicit.

Xu Qingya followed alongside them all the way. As they went downstairs, she mentioned, "Sister Xining hasn't come down yet."

"Let's take your sister to the hospital first," Liang Shi said. "We can't worry about so much. Zhao Xuning is a doctor—she'll handle things herself."

Xu Qingya helped open the car door, and Liang Shi placed Xu Qingzhu in the back seat.

But Xu Qingzhu clung to her arm, refusing to let go. As if she could touch something that would cool her burning body, her soft, boneless hand fell on Liang Shi's wrist, gently stroking it. It didn't seem like deliberate seduction—just instinctive action.

Not trying to be alluring, yet more alluring than any attempt.

Liang Shi felt an unknown fire rising in her lower abdomen. Her whole body felt tingly, the sensation traveling from her wrist all the way to her toes. She couldn't help but lick her lips as she coaxed softly, "Bamboo<sup>1</sup>, be good, let go."

Her voice was gentle, trying to maintain a cool tone, but if you listened carefully, you could hear her voice trembling at the end.

Physical instinct made her unable to control herself.

But she knew that while Xu Qingzhu was no longer clear-headed, she herself was still conscious.

Taking advantage of Xu Qingzhu's disoriented state would be too shameless.

Liang Shi considered herself at least somewhat of a gentleman.

Who would have thought that not only did Xu Qingzhu not let go upon hearing her words, but her fingers traveled upward from her wrist to her forearm, lightly pinching the flesh on her arm.

There wasn't much flesh there, but the spot she pinched felt somehow itchy.

Not just that patch of skin—her entire body felt itchy.

A tingling, numbing kind of itch.

Liang Shi suspected Xu Qingzhu had cast some spell on her hands.

She took a deep breath and said gently, "Bamboo, I'll take you to the hospital. Let go first, okay?"

"No..." Xu Qingzhu frowned like a child. "I don't want to go to the hospital."

She had first drunk too much alcohol, then because her inhibitor had failed, she had accidentally ingested an aphrodisiac<sup>2</sup>. Her current state could hardly be called ideal.

The fact that she hadn't pleased herself in public was already a testament to her strong mental self-control.

Though her two legs were also constantly rubbing together.

Earlier on the way, she had even guided Liang Shi's hand to explore herself.

Liang Shi had been so startled she nearly dropped her.

At this moment, Liang Shi was screaming internally, but could only continue coaxing, "Then we won't go. I'll take you home, okay? You'll feel better after sleeping at home."

Xu Qingzhu suddenly covered her mouth and dry heaved.

"Careful, she's going to throw up," Xu Qingya said urgently.

Liang Shi quickly moved aside to give her space, but after breathing in some fresh air, Xu Qingzhu felt slightly better.

She shook her head, looking pitiful and wronged.

Inexplicably, Liang Shi thought of the cat she used to have.

Actually, it wasn't really her cat.

She had picked it up on her way back to the hotel after finishing work late one day.

It was raining heavily that day, and the cat was huddled in a small shelter by the roadside. In the fierce wind, it curled up its body, constantly sticking out its tongue to lick its fur.

Liang Shi had been moved by pity and brought it home to care for it.

It had indeed kept Liang Shi company for a while.

During those lonely years, that cat had briefly healed her.

Perhaps she wasn't meant to be with these little creatures.

After raising it for less than a year, it died.

But Liang Shi clearly remembered that when the cat was scolded by her, or when it had secretly drunk the wine she had hidden at home, it would have an expression very similar to Xu Qingzhu's current one.

Both would look at you pitifully, eyes misty with tears, with a somewhat dazed look, as if seeking forgiveness, yet also as if saying aggrievedly: "I didn't do anything—"

Liang Shi characterized this as having a righteous air even when in the wrong.

"I won't throw up," Xu Qingzhu bit her lower lip and said with a sob, "Take me home, okay?"

There was a hint of pleading, but her tone was clearly acting spoiled.

Liang Shi's heart filled with even more tender affection. She nodded firmly, "Okay, we'll go home. But you need to let go of me first so I can drive."

Xu Qingzhu looked at her, the misty vapor in her eyes turning into teardrops that fell on her flushed cheeks. There was also a teardrop hanging on her long eyelashes, making her look pitiful and wronged, like a fragile porcelain doll.

Liang Shi: "....."

Help!

No one told her that Xu Qingzhu's personality would change so drastically when drunk!

She had thought she was a gentle goddess, then discovered she was an aloof beauty, and now found out she was the pure and cute type.

In any case, there were surprises every day.

Liang Shi was having trouble handling this.

Anyone would have trouble handling this.

Liang Shi thought that if Xu Qingzhu asked her right now, "Take me to the moon, okay?" she would definitely agree unconditionally.

That kind of impulsive, reckless behavior.

Perhaps at this moment, she understood King You of Zhou's<sup>3</sup> actions a little bit.

Although when she had read this story before, she thought King You of Zhou was just a foolish ruler, an idiot.

How could there be such people in this world?

But now she felt she had been too young back then.

"Liang... Shi~" Xu Qingzhu called her name softly, her voice rising at the end, as if the sound was made by gently biting the tip of her tongue.

Liang Shi's legs went weak, but she managed to hold herself up without embarrassing herself. She responded softly, her voice also gentle, "I'm here, what's wrong?"

Xu Qingzhu gripped her arm tightly, her head gently nuzzling against her, her hair falling just at her collarbone.

Some strands even slipped inside her clothes along the neckline, touching her skin.

Xu Qingzhu looked at her and suddenly smiled—a smile that made one lose focus momentarily.

Liang Shi swallowed and coaxed again, "Bamboo, let go, okay?"

"No." Xu Qingzhu's voice had a slightly nasal tone. She frowned slightly, and as if thinking of something, suddenly licked her lips. "Meow~"

Liang Shi: "....."

Her heart skipped a beat for a moment.

When she made the cat sound, her expression was fifty percent similar to a cat's.

But she was much more seductive than a cat.

She just lightly licked her lips, and they glistened with a rippling red, as if coated with the finest lip gloss, without any added color—just the most natural hue of the body.

---

Footnotes:

<sup>1</sup> Bamboo: Liang Shi's nickname for Xu Qingzhu (since "zhu" means bamboo)

<sup>2</sup> Aphrodisiac: A drug that increases sexual desire

<sup>3</sup> King You of Zhou: An ancient Chinese ruler famous for his foolish behavior to please his beloved concubine, ultimately leading to his downfall

Chapter 24-3

Liang Shi took a deep breath.

She felt like she had come here to undergo tribulations.

Before, she thought it was a life-and-death tribulation, but now she felt it was an emotional tribulation.

"She's gone crazy." Xu Qingya helplessly held her forehead beside them. "Sister Liang, please bear with her."

This sentence finally pulled Liang Shi's wandering thoughts back.

It seemed that Xu Qingzhu had always had this problem—it wasn't something that just started today.

Xu Qingya was very familiar with this.

"Has she always been like this?" Liang Shi asked carefully.

"When she drinks too much, she's definitely not normal." Xu Qingya spoke quite bluntly.

"Sometimes she pretends to be a cat, sometimes a dog, sometimes she imitates a pig—basically she can imitate many animal sounds. But where are we going now?"

"I can't drive." Liang Shi said, "Let's go home first. Your sister wants to go home."

"Liang Shi..." Xu Qingzhu called her name again.

Liang Shi looked down. "I'm here."

Xu Qingzhu was about to cry, her usually clear and cold voice now sounding like it was dipped in honey.

She said, "I feel so... uncomfortable."

Her speech was intermittent, and her two legs were already clamped together.

Her brow furrowed tighter, and tears kept falling.

Xu Qingya couldn't bear to watch and got out of the car directly. "Give me the car keys, I'll drive."

Liang Shi reflexively started to hand them over, but halfway through remembered, "You're a minor, you don't have a driver's license, right?"

Xu Qingya: "....."

"You sit in the back and take care of her." Xu Qingya rubbed her ears. "I really can't stand her. This voice... it's too sweet."

She spoke with a tone of disappointment and frustration.

But after saying this, she ran a few steps toward the entrance of Huayue International and randomly pointed at a security guard. "Help me out."

The security guard she pointed at was stunned and pointed at himself in confusion. "Me?"

"Yes, you. Do you have a driver's license?" Xu Qingya wasn't shy at all.

The security guard nodded. "Yes, I do."

Xu Qingya pulled out two hundred yuan from her pocket. "Come with me for a trip, help drive a car."

Security guard: "....."

Liang Shi, watching from the side, couldn't help but give Xu Qingya a thumbs up.

This little sister was too clever.

Xu Qingya sat in the passenger seat and quickly fastened her seatbelt.

She also flipped down the rearview mirror in the car and instructed the security guard, "From now on, no matter what sounds you hear, you're not allowed to turn around, understand?"

The security guard who was forced to become a designated driver: "?"

"Sister Liang, just pretend we don't exist." Xu Qingya said, "I'll try not to listen. But please, don't let Xu Qingzhu die."

Liang Shi: "....."

She always felt that this little sister knew a bit too much.

But thinking about it, kids these days knew quite a lot.

Chapter 24-4

//

The white Porsche drove out of Huayue International and merged into traffic.

The car became quiet, so quiet that only their breathing could be heard.

Even Xu Qingya and the designated driver's breathing became shallow.

Only Xu Qingzhu's somewhat rapid breathing remained.

Liang Shi sat there as Xu Qingzhu actively leaned toward her. Her body was too hot, desperately seeking something that could cool her down.

The person beside her was the most suitable.

Even her hands were the most suitable.

Her face also radiated coolness.

Xu Qingzhu's hand fell on Liang Shi's waist, moving from left to right. She couldn't find any pattern—she simply wanted to tear away this obstructive clothing.

Liang Shi couldn't help but press down on her hand, saying in a low voice, "Bamboo, hang in there a little longer, okay?"

She didn't know what type of aphrodisiac Xu Qingzhu had been given.

But in this world, every drug had an antidote.

However, Xu Qingzhu lifted her head, and tears suddenly fell from those slightly red eyes.

Like pearls with a broken string.

When she cried, it carried no emotion—she was simply crying.

She didn't even make sobbing sounds.

Even Liang Shi, who had acted in countless crying scenes and was often praised by marketing accounts as having the best crying scenes in the industry, was shocked.

If this was acting, sending her to win an Oscar wouldn't be excessive.

"Don't cry." Liang Shi hurriedly looked for tissues, finding a pack in her pocket. She pulled one out and handed it to her, but Xu Qingzhu wouldn't take it.

Liang Shi could only fold it and wipe her tears, gently coaxing, "Bamboo, don't cry anymore. We'll be home soon."

After saying this, she handed her phone to Xu Qingya. "Call the butler and have the family doctor come over."

Xu Qingya took the instruction and complied, turning back to glance at her sister.

Nothing much to say—just despair.

Heaven knows, in their family, they never let her sister touch alcohol.

Since childhood, the number of times her sister had gotten drunk could be counted on one hand. In those few instances, she would completely black out after getting drunk.

From the moment she got drunk, she had no idea what she was doing.

Xu Qingya was completely resigned at this point.

A married daughter is like spilled water<sup>1</sup>—let her wife deal with this mess.

Liang Shi felt like she was about to be driven crazy.

Xu Qingzhu said nothing, just cried. Her tears simply wouldn't stop, and Liang Shi could only keep handing her tissues.

After a while, Xu Qingzhu suddenly let out a small burp.

Her tears stopped instantly.

As if there was a switch.

This left Liang Shi greatly impressed.

"Do you need to throw up?" Liang Shi asked.

Xu Qingzhu rested her head on her shoulder, leaning close to her ear, and suddenly bit down gently.

In that instant, Liang Shi got goosebumps all over.

Her whole body felt like it had been struck by electric current—numb.

"Do you think I don't know anything?" Xu Qingzhu licked the tip of her tongue, that moist sensation landing on Liang Shi's ear, making her ear twitch slightly.

But her heart tightened.

Know what?

"You slept with Miaomiao<sup>2</sup> on our wedding night, didn't you?" Xu Qingzhu's voice was very low, carrying a trace of desolation and resentment.

Like a basin of cold water poured over her head.

Liang Shi instantly sobered up.

So Xu Qingzhu was talking about the original body.

What kind of feelings did she have for the original body?

Love?

Or dependence?

Liang Shi wasn't clear.

The book didn't elaborate. It only mentioned that later, when Xu Qingzhu was with her true destined Alpha, she had described her feelings for the original body like this: "She was like a piece of driftwood I grabbed onto while floating alone at sea. Later when I reached shore, she became useless. I was once very grateful that she saved my life, but later I discovered she was broken and rotten, worse than a pile of junk. I could only discard her as quickly as possible—that was the most correct choice. I tried to carve her into an exquisite wood sculpture, but she wasn't worthy of my expensive carving knife. So when you ask if I ever loved her, I can only say—I don't know."

This was a rather literary way of putting it.

But it accurately described Xu Qingzhu's feelings for the original body.

Boiled down to three words—"don't know."

All of Xu Qingzhu's previous behavior seemed to weave a net, quickly pulling Liang Shi into an illusion.

It gave Liang Shi a brief misconception and misunderstanding about her own emotions.

But thinking carefully, they had only known each other for a few days.

How could she possibly fall for someone in just a few days?

Perhaps it was because the system had forcibly bound the two of them together, and she had pieced together her entire life through fragmentary details.

That's why she had the illusion of having known her for a long time and being very familiar with her.

In reality, they were just roommates who were slightly familiar with each other.

They couldn't even be called friends.

Having figured this out, Liang Shi's heart finally felt less blocked.

And Xu Qingzhu continued speaking.

"And a month ago, you lied to me about going on a business trip, but actually went to the Dia Hotel with Cheng Ran. You all played there for three days and nights." Xu Qingzhu enunciated clearly. "There were seven of you sleeping together, weren't there?"

"That day there were two Omegas and two Betas. How was it? Were they all prettier than me, with better figures than me?" Xu Qingzhu laughed softly, pulling Liang Shi's hand to place it on her own softness, with only a thin tank top between them.

The pure cotton material felt very nice to touch.

Slightly round, somewhat soft.

Liang Shi froze in place, not daring to move.

Xu Qingzhu said, "And three months ago, you went to Cheng Ran's birthday party. That night you slept with a celebrity, didn't you? She even sent me photos of you two—on the bed, wearing nothing."

She suddenly grabbed Liang Shi's collar. "Do you think I'm an idiot? That I don't know anything, so I deserve to be deceived, I deserve to be played by you?"

"Because our family took money from the Liang family, I deserve to be humiliated by you? I have to do whatever you tell me to do. I clean the 300-square-meter house<sup>3</sup> by myself, make you breakfast, and even have to change the sheets after you've rolled around with other women. Every time you bring a bunch of people home, when you bring women into our room to sleep, I have to give up my place for you. Is it all because I won't let you touch me?"

Xu Qingzhu spoke through gritted teeth by the end, staring at her intently.

"I just won't let you touch me." Xu Qingzhu said quietly. "Liang Shi, I find you disgusting."

"If I hadn't thought I liked you back then, why would I have married you?" Xu Qingzhu was drunk, but her speech logic was perfectly intact. It even seemed like she was using her drunken state as an excuse to vent her dissatisfaction.

But if Xu Qingzhu weren't drunk, she would never say these things.

"Don't you know how dirty you are?" Xu Qingzhu patted her face. "Even now when I feel so uncomfortable, so uncomfortable, I know I've been drugged, but I still don't want you to touch me. I'll do it myself—I don't need you."

Liang Shi grabbed her hand and said softly, "Bamboo, you're drunk."

"Yes, I'm drunk." Xu Qingzhu sneered, her head leaning back on her shoulder, sounding lazy as she made a seductive sound.

Liang Shi now felt like she was maintaining her composure despite temptation<sup>4</sup>.

After hearing what Xu Qingzhu had just said, no one would have any reaction anymore.

<sup>1</sup> A married daughter is like spilled water: Chinese idiom meaning that once a daughter marries, she belongs to her husband's family and can no longer be reclaimed by her birth family

<sup>2</sup> Miaomiao: A woman's name, likely one of the original body's lovers

<sup>3</sup> 300-square-meter house: Approximately 3,230 square feet, indicating a very large home

<sup>4</sup> Maintaining composure despite temptation: Reference to the Chinese idiom about Liu Xiahui, a legendary figure known for his moral integrity and ability to resist sexual temptation

Chapter 24-5

Xu Qingzhu's hand fell on her own body, traveling downward from her chest along winding curves, stopping at her legs.

Her slender fingers continuously caressed her skin, pushing aside the jacket draped over her body.

Her face was redder than before, her eyes gradually becoming hazy, taking on traces of desire.

This was different from just now.

Liang Shi knew that a new wave of the drug's effects was arriving.

She could only try her best to drape the clothes over Xu Qingzhu to prevent her from doing anything too outrageous.

But at this moment, Xu Qingzhu's body was pressed against Liang Shi's. When she moved closer, Liang Shi would shift to one side, until she had moved to the corner, pressed tightly against the car door with nowhere else to go.

This conveniently gave Xu Qingzhu more space. Her two long legs casually rested on the car seat, and her hand slipped under her tank top. She must have pinched something, as she suddenly let out a satisfied sigh.

Her head was even tilted back, positioned right in front of Liang Shi's chin.

This made Liang Shi afraid to look at her.

Xu Qingzhu's hand emerged again and rested on Liang Shi's chin, looking pitiful and wronged.

"Why won't you look at me?"

Liang Shi: "....."

How could she dare to look?

Besides, Xu Qingzhu's current state was truly too enigmatic.

It made Liang Shi suspect at one point that she was acting.

But looking at her eyes, it didn't seem like it.

She could only say this person was too amazing.

"Won't you look at me, please?" Xu Qingzhu burrowed her whole body into her embrace. Taking advantage of her inattention, her hand slipped under the hem of her clothes, her warm fingers landing right on her bra.

Xu Qingzhu moved close to her, eyes bright and sparkling, her voice pressed very low but carrying a slightly rising tone, extremely seductive. "Can I kiss her, please?"

Liang Shi caught her hand. "Bamboo, stop fooling around."

Upon hearing this, Xu Qingzhu pouted aggrievedly, but her hand had already moved past that layer of smooth fabric.

The sensation of skin touching skin was the most direct.

It was like a meeting of souls, spirits colliding in an instant.

Liang Shi lowered her head and sighed, looking at Xu Qingzhu.

Xu Qingzhu was nuzzling against her.

Like a child who didn't get the candy she wanted.

Liang Shi knew what she wanted.

But she couldn't take advantage of someone in distress.

Liang Shi simply removed her hand. "Bamboo, be good and sleep first, okay?"

Xu Qingzhu's gaze had a moment of clarity, but she tilted her head in confusion. After a moment, she frowned and asked, "Are you Liang Shi?"

Liang Shi: "....."

She was really going to be driven crazy by Xu Qingzhu.

"You don't seem to be." Xu Qingzhu looked into her clear eyes, then knocked on her own head. She couldn't really think straight at the moment, so any mental effort made her head hurt. She kicked the car door petulantly and stared directly at Liang Shi. "Are you Liang Shi?"

Liang Shi: ".....I am."

She was.

Her original name was also Liang Shi.

Nothing wrong with that.

It's just that she wasn't the Liang Shi from this world.

She wasn't that kind of scum.

"You're not." Xu Qingzhu said with certainty.

Liang Shi was equally firm: "I am."

"You're not~" Xu Qingzhu's voice rose at the end, taking on a spoiled tone. When saying the last word, she grabbed her collar and suddenly pulled down while she was focused, bringing their faces within inches of each other. Their breath fell on each other's faces—they only needed to lean slightly closer to kiss.

Xu Qingzhu's eyes flickered, as if trying to see through her eyes to understand who she really was.

After a few seconds, she revealed a sly smile. "I know your secret too."

Liang Shi: ".....Oh."

She was probably going to say something about where the original body went to sleep with someone again, right?

It wasn't her who slept with them anyway.

She had always been pure and self-disciplined—she hadn't even been in a relationship yet.

Liang Shi felt she was immune to this.

But unexpectedly, Xu Qingzhu said in a low voice, "You're not Liang Shi."

Liang Shi: "?"

"Are you from planet B612<sup>1</sup>?" Xu Qingzhu's eyes showed a trace of innocence.

It seemed the drug's effects had worn off.

But when she drank too much, would she really become mentally unclear?

Really, just now, Liang Shi had almost thought she'd been exposed.

Although she had been going OOC<sup>2</sup> since arriving, she didn't think being exposed at this moment would be a good thing.

She just didn't want to keep living with the original body's attitude toward life.

After all, her time might be limited.

She had even been thinking just now—if the target of conquest recognized her identity and thus increased her favorability toward her, would she lose lucky points?

Fortunately, it was just a false alarm.

Her thinking was simple—even if she kept going OOC, this body was still Liang Shi herself.

No one would think of something as absurd as transmigrating into a book.

As long as she insisted on not saying anything, everyone would eventually think she had reformed.

---

Footnotes:

<sup>1</sup> Planet B612: A reference to "The Little Prince" by Antoine de Saint-Exupéry, where the prince comes from asteroid B-612

<sup>2</sup> OOC: "Out of character" - acting differently from the original character's established personality

Chapter 24-6

Liang Shi covered Xu Qingzhu with clothes, concealing all the alluring scenery tightly, afraid that even a tiny bit might show and make her mouth dry and unable to control herself.

But Xu Qingzhu struggled constantly from the heat.

"You're not Liang Shi." Xu Qingzhu said again, "Then who could you be?"

Liang Shi said helplessly, "You're drunk. I am Liang Shi."

Xu Qingzhu shook her head. "No, you're not."

After saying this, she giggled. "But compared to before, I like the current you more."

Liang Shi smiled gently. "Really?"

"Of course." Xu Qingzhu held out her pinky finger. "It's just that you make me feel a little, little, little bit moved."

Liang Shi: "....."

Was this really not flirtation?

She was just smiling, but Liang Shi's heart couldn't help but flutter.

Liang Shi said nothing, turning her face away slightly.

Xu Qingzhu's head was pillowed on her leg when she suddenly turned over, her voice muffled, but Liang Shi heard clearly.

She said, "I heard that being bitten feels good. Do you want to try?"

Liang Shi: "....."

Liang Shi's stoic expression was about to crumble. She pulled her up and righteously refused: "No."

Under Xu Qingzhu's curious gaze, Liang Shi said, "It would hurt."

Xu Qingzhu leaned closer and whispered, "Then what about licking?"

Liang Shi: "....."

Oh my god.

Did she know what she was saying?

Liang Shi felt like she was about to explode.

She felt that if this continued, one of them would definitely go crazy.

Either Xu Qingzhu would wake up tomorrow knowing what she had done and said, wishing she could stand on a rooftop and shout "I'm a pig" three times before jumping off.

Or she would push open the car door and jump out right now.

Between these two options, clearly the latter should be the low-probability event.

And given her degree of cherishing life, this should be an event that wouldn't happen, but... she felt that now, anything was possible.

Xu Qingzhu's lips fell near her ear, her chin resting on her head, that clear and cold voice carrying a trace of coquettishness. "Then will you help me, please?"

She rubbed her legs together, as if acting spoiled. "I feel so uncomfortable."

Liang Shi: "....."

"We're here." Xu Qingya's voice rang out, followed by her unbuckling her seatbelt, opening the car door, and getting out—all in one smooth motion.

She even quickly pulled the designated driver out of the driver's seat.

Only the two of them were left in the car.

Liang Shi felt like she was about to combust.

She opened the car door, letting fresh air flow in. Just as she was about to get out, Xu Qingzhu pulled her hand and suddenly brought it to her own mouth, her tongue lightly gliding across the back of her hand.

It was a very light movement.

And it wasn't even erotic.

When she did it, it even seemed full of aesthetic beauty.

Her pleading posture was exactly like the cat Liang Shi used to have, looking at her pitifully and aggrievedly. "Will you lick me like this, please?"

Liang Shi: "....."

When Xu Qingzhu acted spoiled, her clear and cold voice would sound very sweet, blinking aggrievedly. "It would feel very good."

Liang Shi: "....."

Really, she was betting on it.

Xu Qingzhu would definitely regret this when she woke up tomorrow.

//

The family doctor had been waiting at home early, just waiting for Liang Shi to bring Xu Qingzhu back.

After a simple examination, the family doctor gave Xu Qingzhu an injection, then applied a suppression patch<sup>1</sup> to her gland area.

Xu Qingzhu soon fell into a deep sleep.

Only then did Liang Shi feel that the heart-stopping moments were over.

When she was seeing the family doctor out, Xu Qingya was standing at the door playing with her phone, chewing gum.

Seeing them come out, she looked up and asked, "Is she asleep?"

There was no trace of the worried expression she had shown earlier at Huayue International.

Liang Shi nodded. "Mm."

Xu Qingya patted her shoulder. "You've had a hard time."

Liang Shi: "....."

She couldn't help but ask, "When she drinks too much, does she always become..."

It was somewhat indescribable.

But she still picked the most appropriate words from her vocabulary: "Like having multiple personalities?"

Xu Qingya smiled and nodded. "I can only say my sister is a treasure."

Liang Shi: ".....?"

"When she got drunk before, she would also perform breaking rocks with her chest<sup>2</sup>, breathing fire, and going to find her six little companions to save grandpa with her." Xu Qingya mercilessly exposed her sister's embarrassing secrets.

Liang Shi: "....."

This was also the first time she'd heard about this.

After speaking, Xu Qingya turned to go downstairs, but after taking two steps, she suddenly stopped and called out very seriously, "Sister Liang."

Liang Shi responded: "Mm?"

"I told you before, didn't I? My sister is spoiled and pampered—she can't do any rough work." Xu Qingya said, "At home, even when cooking instant noodles, I cook them for her. So, with such a big villa, would you make her clean it?"

Liang Shi: "....."

Though she was just a teenager, when she spoke, there was a sense of pressure.

Although this pressure wasn't enough to intimidate Liang Shi.

Just now in the car, who knows how much Xu Qingya had heard.

Liang Shi could only confess honestly: "Perhaps it happened before, but it won't happen again in the future."

This was said quite tactfully.

But Xu Qingya understood. She nodded and went downstairs without looking back. "I hope you mean what you say."

Liang Shi finally breathed a sigh of relief.

When the villa had quieted down and the entire house was silent, Liang Shi took out her phone.

She found the blacklist and removed Cheng Ran's phone number from it.

After a long while, she sent a text message.

【Are you free now? Let's meet.】

---

Footnotes:

<sup>1</sup> Suppression patch: In ABO dynamics, a patch used to suppress pheromones and reduce the effects of heat/rut cycles

<sup>2</sup> Breaking rocks with her chest: A traditional Chinese performance art demonstrating strength and pain tolerance