

Chapter 11

Liang Shi cleared her throat softly, first glancing at Xu Qingzhu, and seeing her expression was calm with no reaction, she answered: "Didn't hear you."

Lin Xingcan was wearing an orange-colored Lolita dress with a very full skirt, orange blush on both sides of her cheeks, and loose twin braids hanging over her shoulders. The first visual impression was cuteness.

She pouted, her tone carrying some grievance, "Fine, I forgive you."

Liang Shi: "....."

Oh.

This little princess had some princess syndrome¹?

It was just speculation.

"What are you doing here?" Lin Xingcan asked.

Liang Shi answered concisely: "Taking care of some business."

"What business?"

Liang Shi: "....."

Her expression almost cracked.

But she still managed to cope, "Some family matters."

This was said in a way that indicated she didn't want to be questioned further, but Lin Xingcan smiled, "What family matters could you have that I don't know about? You can't be excluding me just because you got married, right? I grew up with you."

Liang Shi was helpless, showing a faint smile, "It's really not convenient to say."

Afraid Lin Xingcan would say more, she waved her hand, "I'm leaving first."

As she spoke, she went to take Xu Qingzhu's hand.

She didn't grip tightly, even deliberately moving toward the wrist area.

Having mixed in the entertainment industry for years, she had mastered the essence of the gentleman's hand².

Because of her own orientation, she would also be somewhat cautious around many female actors.

"Lion." Lin Xingcan called while reaching out to grab Liang Shi, but was easily avoided by Liang Shi. She turned back, "What else?"

"I just wanted to ask if you have time? Let's have coffee together." Lin Xingcan smiled, revealing a row of neat teeth, "I just finished a photoshoot and I'm a bit thirsty. Let's go to the coffee shop ahead."

Confirmed.

This person had princess syndrome.

She had a baby face and looked innocent and pure when she smiled.

Liang Shi had never liked this type.

The Sun Chengcheng who had previously caused her to be cyberbullied was also this type of appearance.

She inevitably carried some personal emotions.

"Not drinking." Liang Shi refused: "My wife and I still have matters to attend to, we'll leave first."

She pulled Xu Qingzhu closer, appearing intimate and ambiguous.

"Ah?" Lin Xingcan stared with wide eyes, looking regretful, "I didn't even notice, Miss Xu is here too."

She bent her finger to tap her own head, "Look at my memory, I even forgot what you looked like. You remember me, right? I attended your wedding. That night, I helped Lion into the room, you should have an impression, right?"

She was afraid Xu Qingzhu would deny it, staring intently at Xu Qingzhu.

Xu Qingzhu also looked back without flinching, then lowered her eyes demurely, as if remembering something amusing, and chuckled softly.

Lin Xingcan immediately became unhappy, questioning: "What are you laughing at?"

Xu Qingzhu restrained her smile, her voice flat, "I remember, the little heiress of Shengmao Group, Liang Shi's childhood friend, the person with 99% pheromone compatibility³ with her, right?"

"Mm." Lin Xingcan nodded heavily, then clicked her tongue, "But it's still a pity that Lion ended up marrying you."

She kept calling her the intimate nickname "Lion."

It was a nickname she had given Liang Shi.

A term of endearment that belonged only to her.

Xu Qingzhu saw through all these little tricks but was too lazy to expose them.

Even if she exposed them, Liang Shi would say she was judging a gentleman's heart with a petty person's mind, that Lin Xingcan wasn't as bad as she thought, not scheming at all.

It was reasonable that a female Alpha couldn't see through another Omega's scheming.

But when Liang Shi looked at other green tea⁴ types, she could spot them accurately.

In the end, she still felt Lin Xingcan was more important and more trustworthy.

Previously, Xu Qingzhu would have been hurt by these things, but now she didn't care at all.

She smiled lightly, "You two go have coffee, I'll go find my sister first."

"I'll accompany you." Liang Shi held her back.

Xu Qingzhu's gaze swept over her wrist, landing on her eyes. Their eyes met.

Liang Shi showed a very gentle smile.

The Liang Shi she had seen since waking up seemed to really like smiling.

She always released friendly signals.

Xu Qingzhu looked at her hand again, and the feeling that "the person in front of me is not Liang Shi" became even stronger.

But she couldn't think of who it would be if this person wasn't Liang Shi.

What method could have replaced the original Liang Shi?

While she was thinking, Liang Shi looked at Lin Xingcan and said: "Xingcan?"

Her tone rose but carried a sense of distance.

Lin Xingcan's eyes curved into crescents, smiling innocently: "I'm here, what's wrong?"

Liang Shi's voice was steady, but if you listened carefully, it was actually cold and indifferent, "I don't think you should go have coffee."

"Ah?" Lin Xingcan was caught off guard, "What do you mean?"

Liang Shi smiled, "Yingshan Cloud Mist⁵ and West Lake Longjing⁶ would both suit you well, you could try them."

Lin Xingcan: "?"

"My marriage with my wife is something worth celebrating and very fortunate." Liang Shi said: "I don't think it's a pity at all. What do you think?"

Lin Xingcan: "....."

"We still have matters to attend to, we'll leave first." Liang Shi said as she led Xu Qingzhu away, pausing briefly to add: "I hope you enjoy your tea."

Lin Xingcan: "....."

Damn.

After they crossed the street, Lin Xingcan finally came to her senses. She pointed at her own nose in disbelief and asked, "Did Liang Shi just call me scheming?"

The friends who had been watching the whole scene from the side first shook their heads, then nodded.

"What do you mean?" Lin Xingcan was frustrated.

"She seemed to, apparently." The friend didn't dare offend Lin Xingcan but could only bite the bullet and tell the truth, "be implying you're green tea."

Lin Xingcan threw the lipstick in her hand onto the ground, "Damn, has Liang Shi gone crazy?"

"Is there a possibility..." the friend whispered quietly from the side, "that wasn't Liang Shi?"

Footnotes: ¹ Princess syndrome: "公主病" (gōngzhǔ bìng) - A term describing someone (usually female) who acts entitled, spoiled, and expects special treatment like a princess ² Gentleman's hand: A respectful way of holding hands or guiding someone, typically by holding the wrist area rather than interlacing fingers, to maintain appropriate boundaries ³ Pheromone compatibility: In ABO dynamics, the degree to which an Alpha and Omega's pheromones naturally complement each other, with higher percentages indicating better biological matches ⁴ Green tea: "綠茶" (lǜchá) - Internet slang for a type of person (usually female) who appears innocent and pure on the surface but is actually manipulative and scheming ⁵ Yingshan Cloud Mist: "英山雲霧" - A type of green tea from Yingshan County, playing on the "green tea" insult ⁶ West Lake Longjing: "西湖龍井" - A famous variety of green tea from Hangzhou, continuing the tea-related wordplay to call Lin Xingcan "green tea" (scheming)