

Chapter 2-1

After Liang Shi finished speaking, she left the room.

She didn't know if Xu Qingzhu believed her, but this was currently the only way to make Xu Qingzhu let go of her fear.

An Alpha who hadn't bonded with an Omega felt like her body was being burned by fire, as if thousands of needles were piercing the most vulnerable parts of her body. Large beads of sweat fell from Liang Shi's forehead, sliding down her cheek.

Afraid of losing control and hurting Xu Qingzhu, Liang Shi simply went downstairs.

But the moment her foot stepped down the stairs, she was shocked by the scene before her.

The original body had just thrown a party with friends at the villa. The floor was covered with exploded balloon fragments, colorful streamers everywhere, quite a bit of expensive red wine had been spilled - some on the floor, some on the white sofa. Cream was smeared everywhere, and there was almost no place to step on the original wood-colored wooden floor.

A fragment suddenly popped into her mind—

"Just play around, I'll have my wife clean it up later." The scumbag Alpha Liang Shi waved her hand grandly, her long hair casually scattered, laughing frivolously and carelessly, "Have fun."

"Xu Qingzhu?" Someone was puzzled, "Don't you have servants at home? Why make Miss Xu clean up?"

"You still think of her as a young lady?" A beautiful-looking Beta laughed: "If it weren't for the Liang family, the Xu family would have gone bankrupt long ago. Now it's just a third-rate small company."

Liang Shi just chuckled.

"Are you jealous that she could marry Liang Shi?" someone beside her provoked.

"Yes." The Beta readily admitted, but then curled her lips, "But Liang Shi is just playing with her. After tasting Haichuan's number one Omega, she'll definitely divorce her. Right, Liang Shi?"

Liang Shi raised her hand to clink glasses with her, "Of course."

The memory broke off.

Liang Shi frowned. She hadn't completely absorbed the original body's memories, only sporadic fragments that flashed by. What she knew was merely the main storyline content from the original book and a few key characters; everything else was unknown.

She was stunned for a moment when her phone suddenly rang. The contact was saved as: Cheng.

Liang Shi had just arrived here and didn't dare act rashly, so she hung up first.

But the person on the other end was very persistent. On the fourth call, Liang Shi reluctantly answered, lowering her voice: "Hello."

"Hello?" Cheng Ran was surprised, "Miss Liang, have you been tamed?"

Liang Shi remained silent.

"This isn't your style. How long have we been gone?" Cheng Ran chuckled, "Worthy of being Haichuan's number one Omega - one night with her and our Miss Liang has learned manners."

Liang Shi frowned, her throat dry and itchy, and coughed lowly.

She knew who this Cheng was now.

Her full name was Cheng Ran, the Alpha granddaughter of the Cheng family of Huaguang Group. She was beautiful and had grown up with the original body. The two were close friends who talked about everything. She was also a player, skilled at flattering the powerful and stepping on the weak. In the original book, many of the ideas for Liang Shi's abuse of Xu Qingzhu came from her. She even took Xu Qingzhu to shady places, treating Xu Qingzhu like an object to be traded, and Cheng Ran was always involved.

Later, when Xu Qingzhu rose like a phoenix from the ashes, on the day the original body's glands were cut out, Cheng Ran quickly fled abroad.

Liang Shi was currently in unbearable physical pain and didn't want to talk much with her, so she hung up directly.

As a result, Cheng Ran called again, and she still didn't answer.

Soon after, Cheng Ran sent a text message.

【She's just a little plaything, and you're angry with me over her?】

Liang Shi sent a question mark back.

【Cheng Ran: Liang Shi, what woman haven't we shared before? This time I didn't even touch Xu Qingzhu, you're not being reasonable. Or are you saying you've really fallen for her?】

【Liang Shi:】

【Cheng Ran: Come on, what's the meaning of not answering the phone? Weren't you planning to mark her during Xu Qingzhu's heat period tonight? From now on she'll be yours. If you don't like it, I just won't touch her.】

Liang Shi had already extracted information from her words. Combined with the fragmentary scenes in her mind, she roughly understood what had happened.

The original body was really scum.

Liang Shi put away her phone and ran through the obstacles on the floor to the bathroom, turned on cold water to wash her face, then looked up at the mirror.

This was a face identical to her own, but this face had heavy makeup - dark eyeshadow, long false eyelashes that cast heavy shadows under her eyes, 999-series lipstick¹ applied in deep red, chestnut-brown long hair hanging on her shoulders. She wore a black dress, and her exposed collarbone was adorned with a row of rhinestones, sparkling brightly.

Completely different from her usual style.

Liang Shi closed her eyes and touched the area behind her ears. Her glands were burning hot, her heart was beating twice as fast as normal. She pressed her heart and called the ambulance again to urge them.

As soon as she hung up, the sound of the ambulance could be heard outside.

Liang Shi forced herself to go out. She clenched her fists and went upstairs to the master bedroom door. The closer she got, the greater the Omega's effect on her. She knocked on the door, cleared her dry throat, and called out in a low voice: "Xu Qingzhu."

"Go away." Xu Qingzhu's voice was suppressed and unbearable, tinged with pain.

Liang Shi was already in so much pain that she sat on the floor, leaning against the wall to regulate her breathing, trying to comfort Xu Qingzhu with a calm voice: "It's okay, the ambulance has arrived."

"Go away." Xu Qingzhu didn't know what she threw at the door, making a loud bang.

The suffering Omega made a roaring sound, like the final mournful cry of a lone goose.

For some reason, Liang Shi could empathize at this moment.

"Don't get agitated." Liang Shi said: "I'll go open the door."

She dragged her unsteady steps downstairs. When she opened the door, the doctors thought she was the sick one, with three or four people coming up to support her together. Liang Shi immediately waved them off, "The patient is upstairs. It's an Omega in heat period who needs concentrated suppressants."

Chapter 2-2

With the changing times, Omega suppressants had developed into various types. There were injectable ones and oral ones, with different methods of use and different effects.

And Xu Qingzhu needed the strongest type.

The more beautiful an Omega, the harder their heat period was to endure, requiring the most potent suppressants to subdue their heat period.

The nurses asked worriedly, "Are you really okay? You also look..."

"It's fine." Liang Shi shook her head, saying anxiously: "She's upstairs, go save her first."

"Don't you need suppressants?" the nurse inquired.

"Take care of her first, don't worry about me." Liang Shi felt her body being constantly drained, her strength nearly exhausted.

The nurses hurried upstairs. When they passed the second floor and saw the mess all over the floor, they all frowned, but quickly returned to normal. They went upstairs and knocked on the door, "Hello, we are nurses from Haichuan First People's Hospital. May we come in?"

Xu Qingzhu in the room had no hope in Liang Shi at all.

She still thought this was Liang Shi's trick, so she shouted at the door: "Liang Shi, stop acting."

How could Liang Shi possibly call a doctor for her?

"Currently, concentrated suppressants are in short supply. We can only take you to the hospital quickly," the nurse said outside the door. "Sorry, we'll have to intrude first."

With that, they pushed open the door. In the dim room, the Omega lay there, and the rich Omega pheromone scent in the room made everyone momentarily bewildered.

Everyone looked over. The Omega on the bed had a cool temperament and beautiful appearance. Although her eyes were tinged with haziness, they were still clear and bright.

She was almost a once-in-a-century exceptional Omega.

"Hurry up." Someone snapped back to attention, "The Omega pheromone concentration in the room is too high. Contact the hospital urgently, prepare the rarest heavy-scented suppressants, and arrange a hospital room immediately."

Xu Qingzhu was puzzled, not expecting that Liang Shi had actually found doctors for her.

Had she changed her strategy?

But no matter what, Xu Qingzhu had decided to divorce Liang Shi.

She didn't want to live with such a moody person anymore. It was too terrifying.

Hiding all the suppressants in the house during an Omega's heat period - this was wanting her to die.

Having made up her mind, Xu Qingzhu saw Liang Shi when she went downstairs.

Her long hair was wet, her dress clinging gracefully to her body, her heavy nightclub-style makeup looking very alluring, but her expression was serious, with a layer of sweat seeping from her forehead.

This was a completely different Liang Shi from usual.

But Xu Qingzhu couldn't care about much else. When passing by Liang Shi, she said coldly: "Let's get divorced."

Liang Shi frowned slightly, then acted as if she hadn't heard anything, instructing the nurses: "Make sure to give her suppressants."

Tears fell from Xu Qingzhu's eyes as she turned her face away, "You don't need to be hypocritical."

Liang Shi pressed her lips together, smiling bitterly. She knew that no matter what she said, there was no way to make Xu Qingzhu change her mind, but she only sought to have a clear conscience.

She looked at the nurses and said sincerely: "Please make sure she's okay."

After Liang Shi finished speaking, her vision went black and she lost consciousness.

She suddenly collapsed to the ground.
