

Chapter 45 - What a Coincidence

"Miss Feng, what a coincidence." Xia Yangting called out.

Only then did Feng Yue realize that the Miss Xia she had gone on a blind date with some time ago had also appeared here.

Her previous meeting with Xia Yangting had been quite pleasant. After they exchanged contact information, they occasionally chatted casually on WeChat.

But Feng Yue really hadn't expected the other party to also come to this resort, and that they would even run into each other at the same restaurant.

"Miss Xia, what a coincidence. Are you here for vacation too?" Feng Yue greeted her with a smile.

Wen Zhen and Zhou Qiongqiong stood behind Feng Yue, watching silently.

Xia Yangting still had that rigorous and calm demeanor, except this time she wasn't wearing a suit but rather a white athletic outfit, making her appear much more approachable.

"Yes, our law firm is having a team-building trip during Golden Week, and we chose this place." As she spoke, Xia Yangting's gaze fell on the two people behind Feng Yue. "Are you here with friends?"

"Yes, I came with two friends."

After Feng Yue finished speaking, Wen Zhen and Zhou Qiongqiong nodded slightly toward Xia Yangting in greeting.

Worried that the restaurant might be too crowded and they wouldn't get seats later, Zhou Qiongqiong and Wen Zhen followed the waiter and left first, giving Feng Yue and Xia Yangting some time to catch up.

Xia Yangting's side also didn't seem to need her attention, so she walked aside to chat with Feng Yue for a few moments.

However, what Feng Yue didn't know was that Xia Yangting's law firm included someone she knew—Kong Ruifu, who had previously handled her divorce proceedings with Yan Lin, was also a member of Xia Yangting's firm.

Kong Ruifu was relatively older in the law firm, so he could only worry about this and that for everyone like an old mother.

After he finished arranging the menu for this meal, the young people in the firm pulled him over to take group photos.

"Attorney Kong, come here, let's take a group photo!"

"Attorney Kong, stand here. Make room for our boss next to you."

"Right, where's our boss?"

"I just saw our boss talking to a pretty lady. She probably ran into an acquaintance."

"Then let's take one photo first, and take another one after our boss finishes chatting."

"Okay, okay, okay."

Kong Ruifu couldn't resist these energetic young people, so he had to stand in the front row and take photos with everyone.

However, no one noticed that Xia Yangting and Feng Yue's pleasant conversation also entered the frame.

After taking several photos here without seeing their boss come over, someone encouraged Kong Ruifu to go find her.

"Attorney Kong, go call our boss."

"Right, just one photo, then she can continue chatting."

"Right, right, right. If that doesn't work, we can invite that beautiful lady to join the group photo too."

Kong Ruifu glared at them threateningly, then reluctantly went to look for Xia Yangting.

When he got closer, he discovered that the person chatting with Xia Yangting was Miss Feng, whom he had handled a case for before.

He had an impression of Feng Yue, not only because she was introduced by Dai Shuangshuang, but more importantly because of her ex-wife's jaw-dropping asset amount.

Xia Yangting and Feng Yue seemed to be chatting intensely. Only when Kong Ruifu approached did the two notice his presence.

"Eh? Attorney Kong?" Feng Yue really hadn't expected to see him here.

Kong Ruifu nodded slightly at her: "Miss Feng."

Xia Yangting was also somewhat surprised that they knew each other: "Attorney Kong, you know Miss Feng?"

"Miss Feng was previously my client."

Xia Yangting nodded, knowing this involved client privacy, so she didn't ask more.

"So, you two..." Feng Yue's gaze moved between the two.

"I work at Attorney Xia's firm. Attorney Xia is my boss."

"Wow, what a coincidence." Feng Yue marveled, then remembered something. "By the way, Attorney Kong came to find Miss Xia about something, right? I won't disturb you then. You two chat."

"Miss Feng, goodbye."

With that, Feng Yue said goodbye to both of them and went to find her two friends.

After Feng Yue left, Xia Yangting walked away with Kong Ruifu.

"Yangting, how do you know Miss Feng?" In private, Kong Ruifu and Xia Yangting had a very good friendship.

Xia Yangting was silent for a moment, then said flatly: "Blind date."

"Oh, a blind date. Then did you..." Kong Ruifu was stunned. "A blind date?!"

Xia Yangting nodded expressionlessly: "Miss Feng's aunt introduced us."

Kong Ruifu was quite concerned about his friend's lifelong happiness: "So did you two hit it off?"

"Half and half."

"What do you mean?"

"I like her, but she probably doesn't have any feelings for me." As she spoke, Xia Yangting even smiled.

Kong Ruifu: ...

How can this person still smile about unrequited love? I don't understand.

"...Alright then, good luck."

"Okay."

This magical conversation ended before the two returned to their group, otherwise Xia Yangting didn't know how long those kids would gossip about her.

When Feng Yue returned to Wen Zhen's side, the food had already been ordered, but Wen Zhen still handed the menu to Feng Yue: "We ordered these dishes. See if there's anything else you want to eat and we can add more." She pointed to several dishes on the menu.

Feng Yue looked carefully and saw that everything they ordered was suitable for her diet, without touching any foods she needed to avoid. But she knew Zhou Qiongqiong didn't like eating such bland food, so she asked: "What about Qiongqiong? You're eating these too?"

"Mm." Zhou Qiongqiong looked at her with bitter resentment. "When my master gave me leave, she said I wasn't allowed to eat randomly outside, so I can only eat these bland dishes with you."

Feng Yue nodded and put the menu back.

Seeing this, Zhou Qiongqiong changed her expression and gossiped: "Ah Yue, who was that just now? She looked so fierce."

Wen Zhen also wanted to know, but she just sat quietly on the side drinking tea, though her ears perked up.

"Fierce? Not really. Miss Xia is quite nice, and her personality is very interesting." Feng Yue smiled. "But you might think she's fierce because of her profession. She's a lawyer and even opened a law firm in Beijing."

"Opening a law firm in Beijing, awesome!" Zhou Qiongqiong hadn't expected that the other party looked about the same age as them but was so successful in her career.

Beijing was a place where every inch of land was worth gold and talent was abundant<sup>1</sup>. Being able to open a law firm in Beijing and run it very well was no easy feat.

"So how did you two meet? I feel like you shouldn't have any connection with lawyers."

Speaking of this matter, Feng Yue felt somewhat awkward to bring up. She rubbed her nose and her voice became much quieter: "We met on a blind date."

Zhou Qiongqiong was sitting across from Feng Yue, and they were in the noisy lobby, so she didn't hear clearly: "Ah? How did you meet? I didn't hear clearly, speak louder."

Zhou Qiongqiong hadn't heard clearly, but Wen Zhen heard it crystal clear. The hand holding her teacup froze in mid-air. Wen Zhen put down her teacup and rubbed her fingertips—she suddenly felt like smoking.

"We met on a blind date." Feng Yue helplessly repeated it, this time making sure Zhou Qiongqiong could hear.

"A blind date?!" Zhou Qiongqiong exclaimed, instinctively looking at her senior sister sitting beside her, then remembering something and quickly looking away.

Her senior sister, with all the advantages of proximity, still hadn't won over the moon<sup>2</sup>?

Seeing her surprise, Feng Yue told them the whole story about the blind date, including the fact that she and Xia Yangting had reached a consensus to just be friends.

If Xia Yangting knew what Feng Yue was thinking right now, she would probably speak up to deny this.

After hearing the whole story, Wen Zhen and Zhou Qiongqiong both unconsciously breathed a sigh of relief.

However, while Wen Zhen was relieved, she also felt somewhat of a crisis. This time Feng Yue had no interest in the blind date, but what if she was interested next time? And even if Feng Yue had no interest in that lawyer, there was no guarantee the other party felt the same way about Feng Yue. Wen Zhen lowered her eyes and thought carefully.

Since the topic had come to this point, Zhou Qiongqiong naturally asked Feng Yue: "So Ah Yue, do you really not plan to find someone to date?"

Feng Yue shook her head as if facing a great enemy: "My current situation isn't good for harming others, and I don't have that kind of mindset either."

Feng Yue was referring to her illness, but Zhou Qiongqiong thought she was talking about how she had once loved Yan Lin deeply and was still having trouble forgetting.

So Zhou Qiongqiong frowned and advised: "You should look on the bright side. There's no reason you can't have a new life. Time is the medicine that heals everything!"

Feng Yue felt this statement was strange, but indeed as time passed her illness would recover, so the statement seemed quite right.

Feng Yue thought about it and reluctantly nodded: "You're right, I should also be more open-minded."

"That's right! Be open-minded, everything will pass. And you should look more around you—if there's someone suitable, don't hesitate." Zhou Qiongqiong thought she was frantically assisting her senior sister.

But Feng Yue thought Zhou Qiongqiong meant she would introduce her to a doctor, so she asked: "Around me? Are you going to introduce someone to me? Where do they work?"

"Ah, this, this..." Zhou Qiongqiong was shocked. Why was Feng Yue suddenly so proactive? Should she directly mention her senior sister's name? Waiting online, urgent!

Wen Zhen heard that the two were clearly not chatting on the same frequency and helplessly rubbed her forehead. However, seeing Zhou Qiongqiong's completely flustered appearance, she still spoke up to help her out.

"Alright, where are you two going with this? Ah Yue isn't a child anymore, she can take care of herself." Then, seeing the waiter about to start serving their food, she seamlessly changed the topic: "The food's here, let's start eating."

The two people whose thought processes were completely different, after being interrupted by Wen Zhen, collected their thoughts and focused on tasting this restaurant recommended by the locals.

After all, not being serious about eating would be disrespectful to the food.

---

Footnotes:

<sup>1</sup> 寸土寸金人才济济 - An idiom meaning "every inch of land is worth its weight in gold and talent is abundant," describing Beijing as an extremely expensive and competitive place.

<sup>2</sup> 近水楼台先得月 - An idiom meaning "a pavilion closest to the water enjoys moonlight first," referring to how Wen Zhen, being close to Feng Yue, should have had the advantage in winning her affections.